Nehru Takes Issue With U.S. On Suez

Wants Council To Stay In State Of Nationalization

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11—UP—Diplomatic sources disclosed Saturday that Indian Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru has advised Secretary of State John Foster Dulles that he does not like the Western plan to internationalize the Canal.

This stand was conveyed to Dulles by Indian Ambassador G. L. Mehta as President Eisenhower and Dulles prepared to meet Sunday with congressional leaders to win support for the U.S.-British-French plan for solving the Suez dispute.

Dulles and Mr. Eisenhower met Saturday morning for a pre-conference review of what they will say in their briefing. Dulles said afterward that he is hopeful the legislators will endorse the big three plan which calls for guarantees to keep the canal open.

Dulles leaves Tuesday for London where on Thursday the first power proposal will be placed before an international conference.

Mehra said Dulles at noon. He was quoted as saying his government is "entirely dissatisfied" with Western moves to internationalize the strategic waterway. But he also emphasized India's interest in maintaining freedom of navigation in the canal so long as "it does not impair Egypt's sovereignty and dignity."

Leaders from both sides of the congressional aisle will be on

British To Embark On Suez Talks

LONDON, Aug. 11—UP—Britain told Russia Saturday that next week's London Suez conference would go on as scheduled in spite of Moscow's objections.

Soon after reports from Moscow said that Soviet Foreign Minister Dmitri Shepilov had applied for a British visa.

But Greece, one of the world's largest maritime powers using the Suez Canal, made a surprise announcement in Athens that it would not attend. This was the first formal turn-down of the Western big three invitation for 24 nations to take part in the parley beginning Aug. 16, to consider internationalizing the Suez. The Greek rejection obviously stemmed from its bitter dispute with Britain over Cyprus.

These diplomatic developments took place against a background of threats in the Arab lands of the Middle East, where supporters of Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser promised a campaign of violence against Western oil and military installations in retaliation for any use of force against Egypt.

Informed sources in Cairo said the Egyptians would destroy the Suez Canal itself rather than give it up to the West.

Egypt yet was to answer the invitation to London. Nasser

If Egypt Attacked

Arabs Threaten To Blow Up Oil Installations

CAIRO, Egypt, Aug. 11—UP—A five-nation Arab labor group threatened Saturday to blow up Western oil installations and military bases throughout the Middle East if Egypt is attacked in the Suez Canal dispute.

The threat came from the International Federation of Arab Labor Unions as President Gamal Abdel Nasser Saturday night worked out with his cabinet his climactic answer to the West's invitation to a world conference on the canal.

There was mounting speculation he would sever diplomatic relations with Britain and France.

Nasser's government will give its formal reply to the London invitation to the British embassy Sunday morning. Nasser himself will make the reply public at a press conference.

There was no doubt he would reject categorically both internationalization of the canal and the conference invitation.

Unconfirmed reports swept Cairo Saturday night that he might also announce:

1. The severing of diplomatic relations with Britain and France; 2. A defense pact with Russia; and 3. A state of national emergency.

There was no confirmation of the reports about an imminent diplomatic split. But British sources reported a mounting campaign against British consuls in the Suez Canal zone that might forecast such a move.

The British employees of the Shell Oil Co., Henry L. Peulevich and A. E. Hawke, were expelled from Egypt Friday for "security reasons" and the British embassy Sunday delivered a strong protest note to the government.

Egypt was expected to reject it.

Egypt's mobilization preparations mounted with the disclosure that a general arms distribution was being carried out in the canal zone and in the neighboring eastern province of Sharqia. The semi-official newspaper Al Shaab reported it.

In Tripoli, acting Premier of Libya Kall Galli said no foreign power would be permitted to attack Egypt from Libyan soil.

The United States and Britain have military installations in Libya.

Demo Drafters End Platform Conferences

Begin Drafting Writ To Appear All Segments

CHICAGO, Aug. 11 (AP)—The Democratic Platform Committee ended its hearings late today and turned to the task of drafting a campaign document that will appeal to voters in all sections.

The 108-member committee wound up a week's public sessions climaxed by a heated clash between North and South over the civil rights-racial segregation issue.

Northern delegates demanded a platform endorsing the Supreme Court decision outlawing racial segregation in the public schools. Southern leaders declared such a stand would split the party and help the Republicans win in November.

Both sides threatened to carry the issue to the floor of the convention next week if the committee's platform draft does not jibe with their views.

Sources close to the committee said one working draft made no mention in its civil rights plank of the controversial Supreme Court decision. But Rep. John McCormack of Massachusetts, chairman of the group, said he knew nothing about that.

McCormack did say, however, he was confident the committee would be able to reach agreement on the plank.

One source represented McCormack as counseling that in the interest of party unity, no reference be made to the decision.

A 16-member drafting subcommittee starts work tomorrow with the expectation of laying a complete document before a closed meeting of the full committee Tuesday night. Southern delegates claimed they had enough votes in smaller group to keep out an endorsement of the court ruling.

The full committee heard recommendations from more than 200 witnesses during the week of hearings. They covered foreign affairs, national defense, economic policies, taxation, and other issues. There was little division of opinion on most of these.

Robert E. Short, Minnesota member of the Platform Committee, said a group of Midwest committee members were "united" in demanding a strong farm plank. Short said this group would seek to have a pledge of 100 per cent parity farm price supports written into the platform. He did

One Driver Sleeps; Six Die In Auto Crash In Missouri

CAMERON, Mo., Aug. 11—UP—Six persons died Saturday as the result of a head-on automobile collision on U.S. 69 north of Cameron. Authorities said the accident apparently was caused by one driver falling asleep.

The victims were Louis Schwartz, 44; his wife, Hetty, 40, and their eight-year-old daughter, Karen; Peter Charles Kavanaugh, 24, Minneapolis, Minn., his wife, Joan, 22, and their one-year-old daughter, Cecilia Maxine.

Another daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kavanaugh, Theresa, 2, suffered multiple injuries, including concussion and a fractured left arm. She was in critical condition in Research Hospital in Kansas City.

Highway patrolmen said Mrs. Schwartz, who was driving one car, apparently fell asleep and it careened onto the wrong side of the highway.

The Schwartz family had left their home, near Kansas City shortly before the accident on a vacation trip to Canada.

Kavanaugh and his family were en route to the Kansas City area, where he expected to take a new job.

Betsy' Pounds At Dominica Island With Heavy Winds

MIAMI, Aug. 11—UP—Hurricane Betsy, the season's first full-blown tropical howler, Saturday pounded the West Indian island of Dominica and Guadeloupe with 105 mile-per-hour winds and then roared out over the open Caribbean Sea.

The small but powerful storm churned through a small ocean passage between the two tiny Rum Islands and then turned from a west-north-westward path to a more northerly course which would carry its devastation toward Puerto Rico.

Road signs to the beach have been erected along the White's Ferry Road and onto the beach road about one mile north of the D'Arbonne traffic bridge. Long Joan is eight miles away from the old traffic bridge.

With Hugh Taylor of the Chamber serving as master of ceremonies, the boat parade, ranging in craft from 14 to 50 feet long, will pass the beach at 3 p.m.

Truman Names Harriman As His Nominee Choice

Adlai Remains Confident Of Party Victory

Harriman Asserted As Man Of Long Federal Experience

CHICAGO, Aug. 11 (AP)—Scrappy Harry Truman, the Democratic party's old champ, went all out for Averell Harriman today as the best man for president in these times of "mounting crisis in the world."

In a strategem that could throw next week's Democratic National Convention into uproarious, harmony-shattering battle, the former President gave his unqualified blessing to the New York governor.

The reaction of Adlai E. Stevenson—still the man to beat for the nomination:

"I expect to be the Democratic candidate."

Truman, reading his statement to the press and to the nation via TV and radio, did not even mention Stevenson, though he did perhaps include him in the remark that the party has "many qualified men to choose from."

But in the next breath he aimed what looked like a triple thrust at Stevenson, the pacesetter candidate:

He implied that Stevenson is a neophyte who might have to be educated to the presidency when

River Ceremony Today To Open Long John Beach Parade This Afternoon

Long John Beach, West Monroe's sandy rendezvous for swimmers and sun-lovers, will be officially opened to the general public today at 3 p.m.

With Gardner Young's "Bavou Bell" gracing the festivities as the lead boat in the 40-raft regatta, some 1,000 persons are expected to line the white-sand shores of the Ouachita for the ceremonies.

In addition there will be speed boat riding for all, boat races for amateurs and ski jumping for "experts" in a sun-packed program highlighted with the introduction of William S. Wells, Commissioner of State Parks.

The commissioners arrived in town last night and will view the work of West Monroe Chamber of Commerce for the past two weeks with a constructive eye. The chamber has spearheaded the beach project.

Long John, a longtime favorite cover for local beach enthusiasts, was taken over by the chamber in an attempt to give the Twin Cities and Northeast Louisiana an ocean-like beach inland.

The beach has been completely reworked by bulldozer, covering almost a mile in length. It has room for another mile and half for the near future.

Road signs to the beach have been erected along the White's Ferry Road and onto the beach road about one mile north of the D'Arbonne traffic bridge. Long Joan is eight miles away from the old traffic bridge.

Deputy Constable Shot; Seek Negro Who Wielded Gun

FARMERVILLE, Aug. 11—(Special) — Union Parish Sheriff's officials were looking late last night for a Negro identified only as "Gatson" for the shooting of a deputized man W. S. Tucker.

Tucker was in a Farmerville clinic suffering from two slight pistol shot wounds after he and Constable John Creed of Larin Ward 6 attempted to arrest a speeder near the Arkansas line.

According to reports, Creed and Tucker, who had been deputized by Creed, were on duty near the Arkansas line when a speeding car had stopped near the truck. The "Gatson" Negro who was in the truck, reportedly leaped out, crawled beneath the truck, hit Tucker and took his gun, shooting him twice.

Sheriff J. G. Stewart and his deputies were in search of the Negro late last night and could not be reached for more detail.

The high temperature recorded yesterday at Selman Field was 100 degrees. The low was 74.

Texas Man Hurt In Auto-Truck Crash On Hwy. 80

A car-truck wreck in Girard early Saturday morning left a Plainview, Texas man in serious condition in the St. Francis with badly burned legs, according to the State Police.

J. D. Jones, whose age is undetermined by the State Police, was rushed to a Rayville clinic and then to the St. Francis shortly after his transport truck and trailer rammed a '53 sedan driven by a Monroe Negro.

The State Police charged Jones with reckless driving after he crossed a yellow line in a marked intersection in Girard, they said.

The Negro James Turner, 711 Griffin St., was attempting to turn left onto the Girard-Oak Ridge highway when Jones hit him from the rear. Both vehicles were travelling toward Rayville.

Jones' truck, which was being propelled by butane, burst into flames and was demolished. The extent of Turner's vehicle damage has not been determined.

Suffering lacerations of the right arm and also bruises, Turner was transported to the Rayville clinic and later treated at the St. Francis.

Three other negroes were riding with Turner when the accident occurred at 3:45 a.m. They were Douglas Turner, 802 Rogers, Edward Durrell, Adams St. and Donald Perkins, Adams St. They escaped without injury.

Jones' cargo was also destroyed, amounting to a $150-$200 loss. He was carrying lima beans. The trailer was badly damaged.

The State Police was assisted in the investigation by Deputy Leo Lyles of the Richland Parish Sheriff's Department.

Lightning Starts Fire In Compress In Winnsboro

WINNSBORO, Aug. 11 (Special) — Lightning struck the Union Compress building here tonight and started a fire that damaged 10,000 cotton samples.

The fire was brought under control before damage spread beyond the sample room.

Nell Wiggins, night watchman, was in a portion of the compress company building, he said, when he heard lightning strike about 8 p.m. "When I got in sight of number 1 building," he said, "I saw the flame coming out of the sample room." Wiggins was in number three building when he heard the lightning.

Wiggins started battling the fire with a water hose after he telephoned for help. The Winnsboro volunteer fire department joined the battle and the fire was brought under control.

The automatic sprinkler system came on during the blaze and helped quell the fire. Two trucks from the fire department were put in service.

The West's rebuff to Russia's attempt to alter the site, composition and timing of the Suez conference was contained in a British note sent to Moscow Saturday morning.

A Foreign Office spokesman said it was dispatched following day-long consultations Friday with Paris and Washington. The note rejected the Kremlin's demands that next week's parley be postponed, expanded to include more Communist and Arab nations, and shifted to Cairo.

The Foreign Office refused to disclose the text of its note to Russia, but a spokesman said: "We have told Moscow why it is impossible for us to accept the Russian suggestions."

Official sources believed that the firmness of the Western determination to stand by the original Aug. 16 conference prompted "serious second thoughts" in Moscow. These were followed by Shepilov's visit.

Soviet diplomats in London told the United Press Friday that Russia's first inclination was to boycott the London meeting unless it was expanded to include Red China, several of the satellites and a host of Arab nations. Moscow carefully avoided including Israel in the "expanded" invitation list, although Egypt has barred Israeli ships from the Suez for eight years.

But the Russian diplomats here said the Kremlin's final decision rested on Britain's reply to the Soviet suggestions for broadening and postponing the original conference plan.

Official sources, even after the implied Russian decision to send Shepilov to London insisted that the West would not allow next week's conference to drag out into a "little Geneva marathon." This was a reference to the two-year-old Red Chinese American talks in Geneva which are being held to "normalize relations" between the two countries without much apparent progress.

SILVERSTEIN'S

Mr. Wild,

Belford V. Lawson, Negro commissary from the District of Columbia, took the floor to deny a claim made yesterday by Gov. George Bell Timmerman Jr. of South Carolina and Judge George Wallace of Alabama, that desegregation in the district schools is "a mess."

From John T. Blue Jr., Washington, D. C., Negro director of the American Council on Human Rights, came a statement that Negroes will leave the Democratic party in great numbers if denied "simple justice" in the platform.

The charges of Northern Negroes and other witnesses, including Sen. Ervin and a fellow member of the committee, Fred J. Cassibry of New Orleans, to break a self-imposed silence they had maintained during the hearing, now nearing an end.

Cassibry said that he could sit silent no longer and listen to the invectives that have been hurled at the South.

Referring to statements that "lawlessness" and "insurrection" are the South's main problem, Cassibry said that the speakers who have appeared here can't possibly comprehend. Obviously most of them have never lived in the South nor have they been in the South long enough to understand our tremendous problems.

"Indeed, most appear in the South only in some supercharged emotionally atmosphere created by extremists on both sides of this awful controversy."

The committee expected to end public hearings and start a 15-member drafting committee to begin work tonight on writing a platform for submission early in next week to the full 108-member committee.

Cassibry, a labor attorney, said that the "professional liberal organizations in their zeal to impress minorities in appearing before the platform committee have questioned the integrity and motives of not only the political leaders of the South but of the people themselves."

Defending the southern people, Cassibry said that any attempt to lay the blame on the people for the "lawless and irresponsible acts of 'the few'" is contemptible, unfair and unjust.

"I suggest to those who have testified today to come to the South and live with us who have the responsibility of public office and I am sure their statements will show a fuller understanding of our problems," said Cassibry. Turning to the southern manifesto, Cassibry said the "liberalists who have appeared here should further note that among those who signed that historic document are friends of all the people, second to none in the nation."

Cassibry declared that every act taken by the South to avoid integration has been in accordance with law.

"Not one single person in the South has refused to obey or abide by the order of a court of law. That I know will continue to be the policy of our people."

Saying that he was speaking especially to the labor leaders who have appeared here, Cassibry urged them "to come to the South, talk to their members there, both white and Negro, and they will thereby get a better understanding of the tremendous problems facing those large numbers of southern public officials who believe in practice and follow progressive policies and programs."

And he warned that "force, threats and slander against the responsible leaders of the South will make it impossible for those officials—or any officials—to continue the present pace of progress."

"We of the South ask that the rest of the Party understand our problems and not judge us harshly as we have not judged them," he said.

Truman

gation or the convention results one way or the other.

"It looks like Stevenson has it in the bag," he commented.

Harrison's statements calling for a strong Civil Rights plank in the Democratic platform generally has alienated him from southern delegates and he was widely quoted some months ago calling for force to carry out the Supreme Court's decision ruling segregation illegal. However, of late he has denied making such statements.

The Civil Rights plank has been the subject of two days of lengthy speeches before the platform committee, with a majority of speakers calling for a strong Civil Rights plank.

However, the actual drawing up of the plank has not been started, and it is not expected to be completed before Tuesday, the second day of the convention.

Democratic officials from both the North and the South are working endlessly behind the scenes in an attempt to draw up a plank which will be acceptable to both sections of the country.

One Chicago newspaper today reported that an agreement on the plank had been reached, but Gravel, who is working with these Demo leaders and other members on the platform committee denied this.

The major issue still unsettled is whether the plank will mention the Supreme Court's segregation decision. Northern leaders want the decision stressed, while Southern Demo are trying to have a plank drawn up without touching on the decision.

Gravel predicted today that if the decision is tossed in, there will be a sentence saying that force is not necessary to do away with segregation.

On the drafting committee, a sub-committee of the platform group which is charged with drawing up the plank are five southerners, headed by Mississippi Gov. J. P. Coleman. Others are Virginia Gov. John Battle, Sen. Sam Ervin of North Carolina, Van Kennedy of Corpus Christi, Tex., and Miss Grace Hudlin of Oklahoma.

According to Kennedy, the committee has not held its first meeting and none has been scheduled. Kennedy also said he does not expect it to be completed before Tuesday.

Witnesses from all over the northern and eastern portions of the nation have appeared before the platform committee during the last two days exhorting support for a stronger method of enforcing integration and generally berating the South for its opposition to the Supreme Court decree.

Only a few, including Gov. Coleman, Gov. George Bell Timmerman of South Carolina and Judge George Wallace of Alabama, have defended the South's stand.

But New Orleans City Councilman Fred J. Cassibry took the floor this morning for an outpouring denunciation of the critics of the South.

"I have sat on this committee for a full day and listened to invective heaped upon the South," he declared.

"I cannot sit here silently and let fabrication and half-truths be imposed upon my state and upon our people without fighting in defense of them and of the Democratic Party in our state."

"I therefore raise my voice in protest."

Cassibry said the South has a problem that the speakers who have appeared here can't possibly comprehend. Obviously most of them have never lived in the South nor have they been in the South long enough to understand our tremendous problems.

"Indeed, most appear in the South only in some supercharged emotionally atmosphere created by extremists on both sides of this awful controversy."

The committee expected to end public hearings and start a 15-member drafting committee to begin work tonight on writing a platform for submission early in next week to the full 108-member committee.

Defending the southern people, Cassibry said that any attempt to lay the blame on the people for the "lawless and irresponsible acts of 'the few'" is contemptible, unfair and unjust.

Reporter Gives 'Inside Info' On Convention

CHICAGO, Aug. 11 (UP) — Notes from a reporter's convention notebook:

These Democrats think of everything. Special news conference today to explain how they hope to keep from literally burning themselves up as their convention gets hot next week.

It won't be easy.

Commissioner Anthony J. Mullane of the Chicago Fire Department said 60 fire officers will keep their well-trained eyes and noses on the proceedings at the International Amphitheatre. Just in case, a fire company will be standing by, hooked up, ready to squirt at the slightest word from any of the watchers.

The reason for all these precautions goes back to the night of July 25, 1952, when a fire broke out near the South Carolina set-

Three 'Planks' Evident For Demo Platform

CHICAGO, Aug. 11 — UP — The party-splitting civil rights fight flared anew in the Democratic party's platform committee Saturday, but party moderates were hopeful of heading off an angry floor fight at next week's convention.

A Negro leader of the Montgomery, Ala., bus boycott and other liberal spokesman demanded that the Democrats write a strong civil rights plank into their platform. Southern Democratic leaders fired back a warning against any "interference" in Dixie affairs.

As the platform committee's hearings neared an end, Democratic moderates labored behind the scenes to come up with a civil rights plank that would at least be acceptable to both North and South. It would be patterned along the lines of the party's 1952 plank.

However, leaders of the moderate group said that three separate planks probably will be laid before the party's national convention opening Monday.

The "moderate" proposal approved by the committee would be designed to mollify southerners except for extreme segregationists and states' righters, by not specifically endorsing the Supreme Court decision outlawing school segregation. It would refer to it only by implication.

However, ultra-conservative southerners indicated they would offer their own plank—condemning the court decision and pledging local control of schools.

A third plank may come from northern liberals, endorsing the court ruling specifically and calling for the federal government to carry out an all-out civil rights program.

But chief sponsors of the compromise plank said they believed it would win a substantial majority of the convention's votes.

John T. Blue Jr., director of the American Council on Human Rights, of Washington, D. C., told the committee that prospects for a Democratic victory in November will be "seriously compromised" unless the convention disavows efforts of southern political leaders to evade civil rights rulings of the Supreme Court.

Martin Luther King Jr., president of the Montgomery, Ala., Improvement Association, key group in the Montgomery bus boycott, said southern Negroes feel the federal government is the only agency to which they can turn for protection against economic reprisal, bombings, beatings and mob rule.

Southern members of the 108-member platform group said they felt impelled to reply.

In Defense Of National Conventions

In every presidential election year, as the primary campaigns reach their climax, blasts of criticism are leveled at the great national party conventions as vehicles for the nomination of presidential and vice presidential candidates and the fabrication of party platforms.

There is undoubtedly merit in these objections raised by widely known editors and news analysts, such as the notable David Lawrence, and leading political scientists, since national conventions admittedly are imperfect instruments to translate the public will into action.

Yet there is a reverse side to the picture, and its importance has been minimized.

The Democratic National Convention opening tomorrow in Chicago is a New England town meeting magnified a million fold; and it serves a purpose, as no other political instrument in America does today, of bringing the people into close personal contact with their government.

The Republican National Convention in San Francisco next week will focus the attention of the public with equal fascination and interest.

It can be predicted safely and conservatively that more than three-fourths of the American people will follow the proceedings of these two mighty conventions—through the press, and television, and radio, and all the mass media of communication.

Actual attendance at a National Convention is limited sharply, and as the batteries of news communication increase, and the vast facilities needed by the press associations and special correspondents and radio and television are multiplied, the demand for convention seats rises, while the supply of seats diminishes.

A national convention such as that opening at Chicago tomorrow is a peculiarly American institution, duplicated nowhere else on earth. It is a grave and monumental gathering, over which the wings of destiny hover; since out of its deliberations may emerge the naming of a president and vice president—the former the most powerful and important temporal office on earth today. But it is more than that. It is a country fair, multiplied a million fold; a circus, greater than any three-ring Big Top that ever hit the road; a town meeting, raised to a magical national level; and a school of democracy where valiant men, despite all efforts to curb their individual ideas and their rough-hewn talk, occupy the rostrum to express their embattled ideas in blunt and salty language.

It embodies color, glamour and vast pageantry, which sometimes reaches points of sublimity and at other times descends to a stable-yard level of the smelly side of life.

Those in attendance, as delegates or guests, feel the tug and urge and excitement of these quadrennial gatherings far more than the people who merely view or hear about or read about the convention doings.

There is a form of hypnotic excitement about a national convention which must be experienced first-hand if its full impact is to be felt. Yet the people over the country as a rule enter rather sympathetically into the shouting and the tumult and the clamor, and the statesmanship and the clowning, the glimpses of dark political intrigue hatched in "smoke-filled" rooms, the thinly disguised trafficking and trading for convention votes.

To the extent that it focuses vividly the full attention of the American people upon national issues and the processes of writing party platforms and nominating candidates for president and vice president, the national convention fulfills a vitally useful role.

And it provides laughs and relaxation, along with all its solemnity; and serves in a pronounced way to bring the people into closer touch with their government, and make them feel that they are parties to great gatherings upon which hinge, perhaps, the destinies of the nation and the world.

Baltimore's 'Integrated' Swimming Pools

Baltimore, Maryland, desegregated its public swimming pools this summer in obedience to a legislative edict by the U. S. Supreme Court.

A little wire service report, buried in the daily press like a pretzel in a deep-freeze, announced a few days ago that one of the two municipally built and maintained pools had been closed because of "lack of support."

This article stated that one pool, formerly used solely by Negroes, was used by approximately 9,000 Negroes and two whites during a four-week period.

The other pool was used by 21,000 Negroes and 802 whites, whereas last year it had been used by more than 29,000 whites.

Baltimore, almost in the shadow of Washington, where the Supreme Court has been as busy as a beehive usurping the functions of Congress and the Chief Executive, taking over the jobs of jury, judge and hangman in the field of racial relations, now is faced with a crucial problem.

Its vast swimming pool facilities have been turned over almost exclusively to the Negroes; yet these pay less than two per cent of the total property taxes of the municipality.

One pool has been closed for "lack of support"; and the chances are that it will remain closed for a long, long time.

The other, formerly reserved to the Negroes, may be closed by a taxpayers' rebellion; since whites by the thousands are demanding, "Let the Negroes pay for its upkeep." The Negroes and two whites, the angry citizens add.

There in Baltimore is a classic model of how "integration" works.

Some of the people have urged the members of the U. S. Supreme Court to visit Baltimore and bathe in the recently integrated Negro pool, thus boosting its morale and prestige from two whites to eleven, fraternizing with 9,000 blacks.

The day may come when not a swimming pool built and maintained by Southern tax money is open to the public; not a public park or playground, or golf course, or recreational facility of any kind whatever.

How soon that day comes depends entirely upon the progress of the integration drive, fanned by the sons of Northern Abolitionists, spurred on by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, agitated by vote-hungry politicians of the Northeastern and Pacific Coast seaboard and the Middle West.

Should the white populace of Baltimore dig into its pockets for the tax money to support a recently integrated

Democrats Debate Wisdom Of Catholic Vice Candidate

WASHINGTON — The fight for the Democratic vice presidential nomination today turned into a public debate on the wisdom of putting a Catholic candidate on the national ticket.

Congressional Quarterly obtained a copy of a confidential memorandum that supports Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.) are distributing to leading Democrats. It disputes the claim of backers of Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) that a Catholic nominee virtually would assure a Democratic victory in November.

Humphrey, a Congregationalist, departed from precedent last week and formally announced his candidacy for second spot on the national ticket. Kennedy, a Catholic, is bidding for the vice presidential nomination although he has not formally announced his candidacy.

The claim that a Catholic vice presidential candidate would all but win the presidential election for the Democrats was made in a survey distributed by John M. Bailey, Connecticut Democratic chairman and Kennedy backer. It, like the pro-Humphrey confidential memo rebutting the claim, was meant primarily for the eyes of Adlai E. Stevenson, leading candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination. Both Humphrey and Kennedy are supporting Stevenson.

The pro-Kennedy survey claimed a Catholic vice presidential nominee would add 132 electoral votes to the Democratic column even if "he could get no more than those normally Democratic Catholics who voted for Ike in 1952." That would be enough when combined with the Solid South to provide a majority of electoral votes," Bailey's memorandum claimed. There are 531 electoral votes; 268 are needed to win.

The Humphrey forces' rebuttal, distributed by political scientist and author Louis Bean, raises these questions:

"Will non-Irish Catholic groups . . . swing against Ike because an Irish candidate is the Democratic vice presidential candidate?"

"How will the candidacy of an Irish Catholic for vice president affect the party in Protestant areas . . . a host of states of rural non-(or even anti-) Catholic orientation? For a non-urban, pro-farm Catholic, maybe; but for an urban, Boston intellectual who so duplicates rather than complements Governor Stevenson, the prospects seem doubtful."

Bean's study disputes two basic points of the Bailey report: That there is a "Catholic vote" and that Catholic candidates ran far ahead of Stevenson in 1952.

Bailey claimed that if Kennedy brought into the Democratic fold only those normally Democratic Catholics who voted for Ike, he would probably win New York,

(Copyright 1956, Congressional Quarterly)

Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, Pennsylvania and Illinois for 132 electoral votes.

If he also wins the votes of Catholics who shifted to the Republicans in 1948 or earlier, he could also swing New Jersey, Minnesota, Michigan, California, Wisconsin, Ohio, Maryland, Montana and maybe even New Hampshire—for a total of 265 electoral votes.

Catholics, the Bailey report said, "vote not as union members or farmers or women or old people but as Catholics." There is, or can be, a Catholic vote; and it is apparent that a well-known Catholic on the Democratic ticket would allocate to that ticket an extraordinarily large portion of that vote.

The Bean memo concedes that most Catholics have voted Democratic but says "the evidence shows that what held them to the Democratic party was not their faith but their status as poor, underprivileged city dwellers."

It cites studies to show that the same proportion of Catholics and Protestants—one in five—left the Democratic party to vote for Mr. Eisenhower in 1952.

The pro-Kennedy memo says Democratic hopes rest on major urban areas in 14 key states. "The Catholic voters in each of these cities can usually determine the Democratic margin in those cities; the size of the Democratic margin in those cities usually determines whether these states go Democratic; and whether these states go Democratic usually determines whether the Democrats win the election."

A Catholic vice presidential nominee, Bailey's report claims, would win the key cities "as Al Smith did; and begin a new era of Democratic victories without costing even the few electoral votes Smith did."

Along with the religious issue, the pro-Humphrey memo raises questions about Kennedy's appeal in the farm states, described as "the single largest area of potential anti-GOP sentiment anywhere in the nation."

Kennedy has voted consistently for the administration's flexible support program, while Humphrey favors rigid 90 per cent farm price supports.

The pro-Humphrey appeal says the "candidate must be one who stands forthright" on the farm issue and "is able by his personal efforts to dramatize the Democratic party as the farmers' party."

Stevenson, it says, "has not yet done this. He is essentially an urban—and urbane—intellectual as far as the farmer is concerned."

Nominating Kennedy, the memo says, "would be but to put two dinner jackets where one grew before. Farm votes cannot be won this way."

West Monroe's Buying Power

West Monroe, La.

Editor, Morning World:

On July 20th of this year I wrote you a short letter about some vital facts in West Monroe that I thought you might print with your other letters on Sundays in the past. The original letter might have gotten lost in your office so here it is again.

I read your news item on Monroe buying power, but was sorry that West Monroe was not included.

So I am enclosing the following statistics which came from the same source: You state that the income per family in Monroe is $4,944; West Monroe has a per family income of $5,159 which is of course more than Monroe. This is also more than was earned by families in the west south central states.

West Monroe ranked sixth in the state in the family income bracket, above such cities as Monroe, Crowley, Bossier City, New Iberia, Jennings, Lafayette, Bastrop, Thibodaux, Alexandria, Pineville, Opelousas, Houma, Bogalusa and Minden. This all goes to show, come and live in West Monroe, the industrial center of northeast Louisiana.

Constitution Convention

Farmerville, La.

Editor, Morning World:

I am guessing that you are for holding a Constitutional Convention judging from some of your editorials on amendments and constitution, but I assume that we fellows that don't agree with those advocating the convention will be allowed to express ourselves against the Constitutional Convention.

The Louisiana Bar Association, through its secretary, is taking a poll on the matter, first whether we are as members of the association in favor of holding a convention, and second, whether we oppose or favor the Bar Association placing itself on record as for or against urging the people to vote for or against the convention.

I think our association is within its rights to find out how we lawyers stand on it, but that on the question of urging the people to vote for or against the convention I do not think that the association should place itself in the contest as an association, and particularly when a large segment of the association is against it, and for that reason I voted today against the association taking any part in the matter, and also voted against holding a convention at this time when the people of Louisiana are divided into several schools of thought and seem to grow wider apart every day.

It is the wrong time to call a convention with conditions like they are in Louisiana, and in addition thereto it will be a useless and vain expense of nearly one million dollars, and in addition we are not the first people in the first state to have many amendments to our present constitution. One other state has 148 amendments and seems to have a very good constitution.

In addition thereto it must be said that the amendments placed in our constitution are necessary amendments and have in the greater part been approved and sanctioned by the highest court in the state. I cannot understand why all of a sudden there is such a clamor for a Constitutional convention. Are there any bugs under the chips? Thousands of us who are not on the inside are wondering why this necessity for a convention sprung up right at this time.

CHARLES G. FIELDS.

(Editor's note: The Morning World has not endorsed the proposed constitutional convention. However, it has discussed the qualifications of some candidates to the convention.)

Nomenclature Of A Civil Rights Bill

Ruston, La.

Editor, Morning World:

One of the most colossal schemes among political grafters in Wash- ington to get votes in the next presidential election is the civil rights bill, which is now being contrived or hatched out by the Republi- cans and northern Democrats (a northern Democrat is a politi- cal shark attired in the robes of a Democrat, Sen. Lehman, for in- stance.)

This civil rights bill they are trying to impose upon the south is something to behold. This is a scheme of the political sharks to take away the rights of the south and swap them to the NAACP for black votes. You see, the south is divided, squabbles among them- selves. The NAACP is organized and doubtful.

The Republicans and Northern Democrats who are trying to ram this law down our throats care nothing for the welfare of the colored people. They won't even associate with a Negro and this is an established fact. But they want his vote.

Eisenhower evaded this civil rights bill until now but his political advisors are bearing down upon him. They want to outbid the Democrats for the bloc votes of the NAACP at the south's expense.

If they get through any kind of a civil rights law, we the south will get a taste of the wrath of a Gestapo, just as ruthless as Hitler's. These federal agents would be dispatched to all parts of the south, arrest anyone on trumped-up charges, and we would have to pay their expenses. No doubt that under remote control they would half the time be carrying out orders for the Communists on their stooges, agitators, carpetbaggers and rebelrousers. They would be certain to put chips on our shoulders.

In brief, the civil rights bill would be a law that would take away the rights of the people of the south and swap them off to the NAACP, an association that is dominated by the Communists.

The house un-American activities committee has branded 78 of the leaders of the NAACP as Communists or having Communist affiliations.

During the summer the boy attended the Laboratory School at Northeast State, where J. J. Barnes a hearing specialist, gave him individual assistance. Barnes, member of Northeast's Special Education Clinic, began working with Tony last spring, following recommendations from Dr. C. B. Flinn and Miss Frances Barnes, speech consultant for the Monroe City Schools.

Tony's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Tichell of 2416 Lee Avenue, have given full cooperation in their son's training, and now they are just about as happy as the youngster in realizing what wonderful opportunities have been opened to him.

Tony's hearing had been greatly impaired by an illness which he suffered at the age of three. This shut him out of a great many experiences which any normal boy or girl would enjoy. Deafness made him shy, unwilling to play with children his own age, and afraid to talk to his teacher or cross the street.

Auditory training, the use of a hearing aid and a desk set, provided by the State Department of Education, has completely reversed the boy's attitude. Now Tony wants to talk and ask questions just as his school mates do.

And he likes to run errands for his teacher, Mrs. Ernestine Cook, who helped him in Laboratory School. If he thinks he has missed anything interesting in class, Tony asks for his desk set which he likes to use. Now he is waiting enthusiastically for September school bells so he can show the Barkdull-Faulk children what he has accomplished.

Tony plans this fall to continue his work at the Special Education Clinic where he is being taught to sharpen his hearing so that he can get the most from it.

Mr. Barnes was able to give him thirty minutes daily for five days each week during the summer term, but this fall he will have only about thirty minutes weekly as the time must be shared with several pupils who come as far as from Jonesboro for auditory training.

In connection with the Laboratory School, Mr. Barnes stimulated Tony's interest in reading by placing him with a boy who was a good reader and one who was poorer than Tony. This proved to be a strategic move. Soon the three were helping each other.

Stock Market Drops Slightly During Week

NEW YORK, Aug. 11 (AP)—The stock market broke a string of eight straight weekly rises this week. The Associated Press average dipped $1.40 to $169.50.

Yet the market was ahead in three of the five sessions. The two sessions when it lost ground were Monday, when it took the worst setback since June 8, the day President Eisenhower's illness shook the market, and yesterday.

On both days it was the Suez Canal crisis which led to the decline. Mounting tensions over Suez battered down prices Monday. Warlike moves by Britain and Egypt led investors to believe that anything could happen.

Yesterday, after three days of relative calm about Suez, traders got apprehensive about what dire news the weekend might bring and lessened their commitments, especially in the international oils which have taken repeated beatings whenever the Suez situation seemed bad.

Steep losses of Gulf Oil and Royal Dutch bore this out. Oil companies with resources little affected by Suez fared better, notably Standard Oil (Ind.) which gained 3 points on the week.

Underlying political and economic factors seemed bullish to most Wall Streeters. Early in the week, the steel companies began increasing prices. Then came the aluminum price rise following Alcoa's wage agreement.

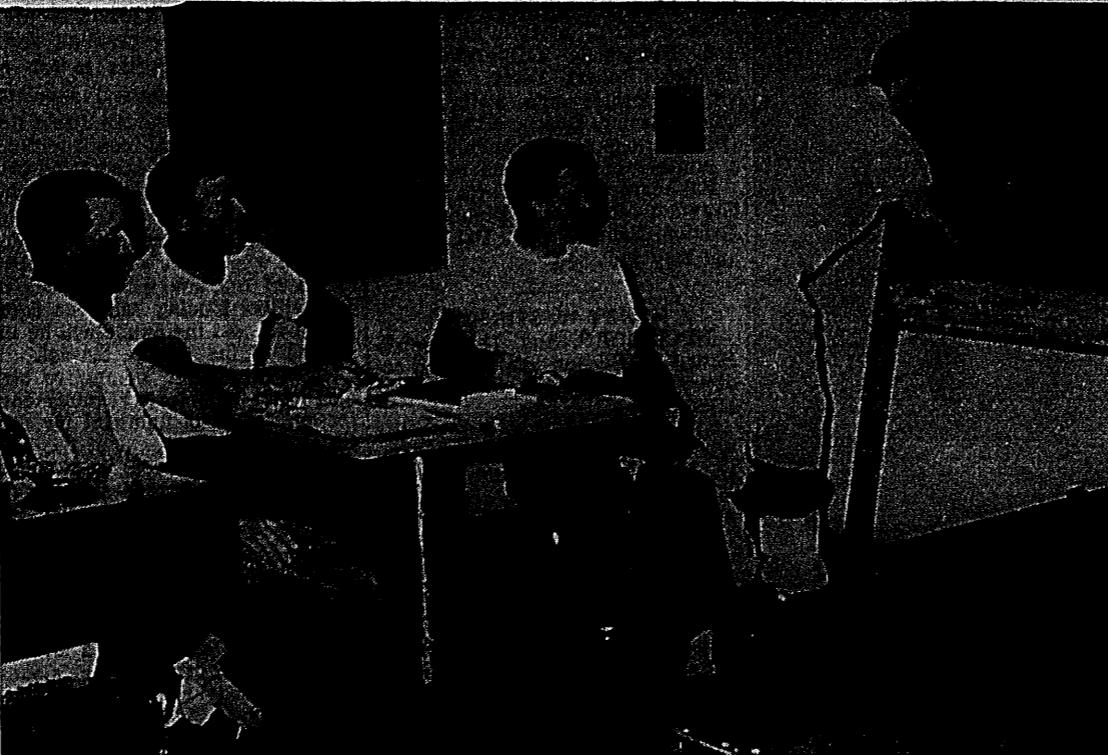

The five most active stocks this week were Gulf Oil, off 4 at 132%, Royal Dutch off 5% at 101%, U.S. Steel off 4% at 64%, Sperry Rand off 3% at 28%, and General Motors up 3% at 48%.

Corporate bond prices drifted downward this week in dull trading. U.S. government bonds hovered uncertainly at or just fractions above their lows for the year.

Held For Auto Theft

Woodrow Atkins, 124 Vernon St., is in the parish jail on a charge of auto theft after he allegedly stole an auto belonging to Earl Green of Jonesboro early Saturday morning.

The 30-year-old Monroe man, according to City Police, got into Green's car at Andy's Club on Louisville yesterday morning around 2 and was apprehended in Ruston by the Ruston City Police.

Prison's Inmates Get New Social Attitudes

LAKE PROVIDENCE, Aug. 11 (Special) — The unchained, well-nourished Negro prisoner greeted us with obvious pleasure. He stood, blocky and important, before the new $100,000 barracks front door framed by a wide lattice design in black ironwork.

"Prisoner" is used as a technical term. We found that these inmates carry the brand of modern rehabilitation. They populate the East Carroll Parish Prison Farm, located on 1,173.48 acres some 10 miles from Lake Providence between highways 65 and 134.

They live in college dormitory-like barracks with gleaming tile floors, neatly made bunks and unbarred doors and windows. At night only outside doors are locked, as if they were home.

For whatever term they are confined to the prison — up to five years, with an 18-month average — the inmates receive practical on-the-farm training and through collective production pay their own way.

Social life is normal to the extent that no walls bar them from escape, no armed guards attend their every move, and no limit is set on how much they learn in adult education classes held three nights each week and taught by members of the parish school system. The classes were begun in 1955, providing instruction in agriculture, home economics, reading, writing, arithmetic and health. Class participation, although voluntary, is almost 100 per cent.

The 28-year-old prison is owned — lock, stock and barrel — by the East Carroll police jury. Policies are laid down by a three-member board of governors, two of whom are elected by members of the police jury from their number, with the president serving as board chairman automatically.

Through agreement with the adjoining parishes of Madison and West Carroll, East Carroll opened the prison's doors to provide its services to convicted misdemeanors or offenders for all the Sixth Judicial District.

The farm has not cost taxpayers a single copper penny, says Kiley Mangum, resident superintendent.

who is the only salaried employee. Recent authoritative estimates place the prison's current worth at between $300,000 and $400,000. It began in 1930 with a police jury advancement of only $23,432.63 which has long since been repaid by the farm.

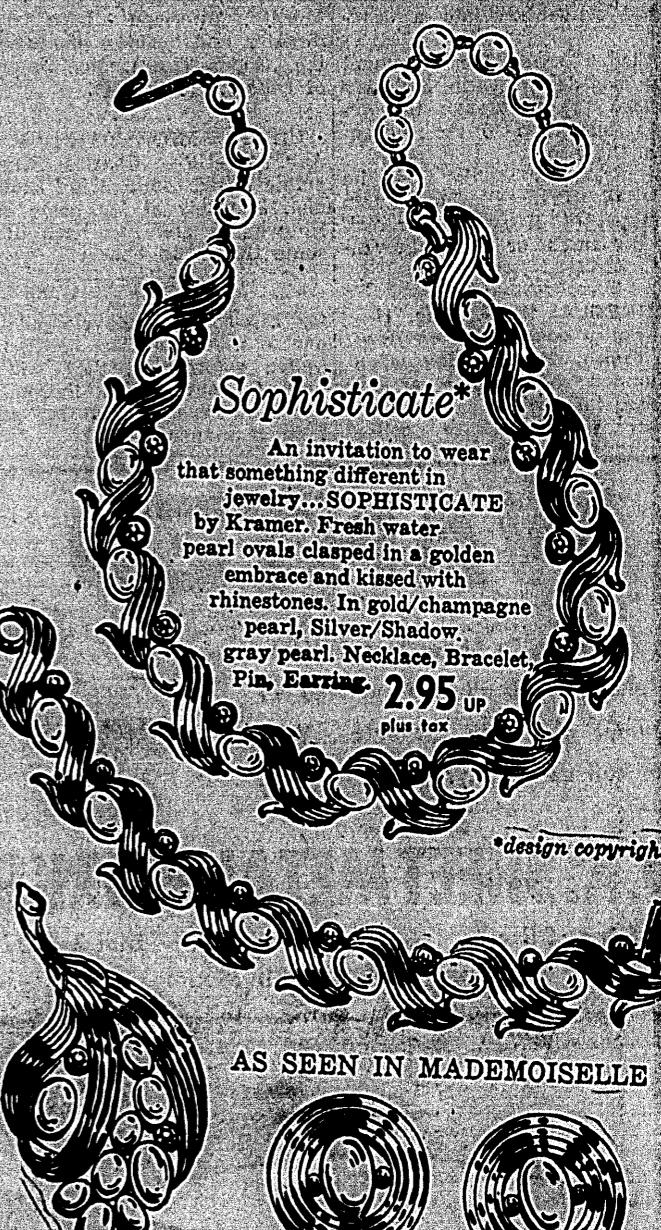

On its sprawling acres inmates cultivate field crops, tend herds of cattle, and raise large numbers of hogs. In attending to their assigned tasks, the "prisoners" go about the farm freely, with no special efforts made to prevent their escape.

As a final efficiency measure, all inmates are regularly checked for health defects by parish health authorities. Few infractions of the prison's health code are ever found.

Adults in families with small children usually have more colds than other adults.

Cotton Futures In Continued Rise Last Week

Active contracts traded on the New York Cotton Exchange showed gains ranging from 80 cents to $3.15 a bale. The best performance was turned in by nearby October.

Chief factor in the sustained rise was a firm conviction among many traders that the soil bank program would result in a higher loan rate on next year's cotton crop. Offerings were furnished mainly through profit taking and hedge selling.

The market took in stride the U. S. Agriculture Department's initial estimate of the 1956 crop. The official forecast — 13,552,000 bales — ranged from 350,000 to 950,000 bales higher than recently published private estimates, it was pointed out.

Based on past experience, there is a tendency among traders to predict that the actual crop will be considerably larger than the government's August forecast. The New York Cotton Exchange Service Bureau commented that over the past 10 years, the final out-turn averaged 326,000 bales higher than the average of official August forecasts in that period.

Bridges Says U. S. Should Not Appear Egypt

CONCORD, N. H., Aug. 11—UP—Sen. Styles Bridges (R-N. H.) said Saturday it would be a mistake to make any deals in the coming Suez conference in London "which are designed simply to appease Egypt and some of her friends."

Bridges and other congressional leaders will meet Sunday with President Eisenhower to discuss the problem.

Bridges said he would urge the president to instruct the American representative at the London conference to "permit no concessions which could possibly jeopardize the territorial rights of this country—or other countries in the Western Hemisphere."

The senator said he referred specifically to "the possibility that some participating nation might demand internal control of the Panama Canal—in exchange for international agreement regarding the Suez Canal."

Labor Union

Point Up Wage Increases In '56

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11—UP—The AFL-CIO predicted Saturday that a majority of wage contract settlements this year will provide for pay increases of 10 to 15 cents an hour plus fringe benefits.

In its monthly collective bargaining report, the AFL-CIO said that "the largest number of negotiated wage increases in recent months" have run from 10 to 15 cents an hour and roughly 10 to 15 cents an hour more than "typical" 1955 wage settlements.

The continuing rise in productivity plus the current high level of business activity "bolstered the prospect for widespread wage increases in the 10 to 15 cent range in the months immediately ahead," the report said.

Back in the 1920's it was considered great sport to go up in balloons. Still is. But in addition, balloons now play an important part in the training of Naval Airship Pilots. They are used to envelop the pilot's ability to bring his airship to a safe landing since in the event of engine failure the airship's performance is similar to that of a floating balloon.

Charters For Four Local Businesses Are Granted

Four businesses in the northeast part of Louisiana received domestic charter from the state of Louisiana during the week ending Aug. 9. Also included in a report from Wade O. Martin, Jr., secretary of state, was one notice of dissolution.

The single dissolution was the Tait Advertising, Inc., of Jonesboro.

Charters filed were: Adcock-Booth Realty Corporation, 1215 Royal street, Monroe, with a total capital of $100,000.

Fuller Hendricks Lumber Co., Inc., Lake Shore Drive, Natchitoches, $10,000.

Layton-Pines, Inc., 318 South Grand street, Monroe, $10,000. Weinberg Scrap Material Co., Inc., 1202 Deslaurier street, Monroe, $50,000.

The low point in total farm income and in percentage of national income occurred in the depression years of 1932 and 1934.

Minority Groups Fail To Unseat Regular Delegates

CHICAGO, Aug. 11—UP—The Democratic national committee Saturday threw out efforts by "rump" groups to unseat the regular Mississippi and South Carolina delegates to the Democratic national convention.

The national committee's voice vote action means the regular delegations from the two states will be on the temporary roll when the convention opens Monday.

However, Monroe Sweetland, Oregon national committeeman, said the Mississippi contest at least will be revisited Monday before the credentials committee of the full convention which could reverse Saturday's action.

Sweetland charged that the regular delegation included members who have been "notorious in their disloyalty" to the party.

One committee source immediately voiced fear that Sweetland's move was an effort to reopen the bitter "loyalty oath" battle that almost led to a southern split at the 1952 Democratic convention.

Gene Conklin, one of the Oregon delegation, who will serve on the credentials committee, told reporters, "People who come to this convention as delegates come here as members of the Democratic party."

The regular delegations involved in the contests are headed by Govs. J. P. Coleman of Mississippi and George Bell Timmerman of South Carolina. The contesting groups are headed by Charles G. Hamilton of Mississippi and John H. McCray, a Negro, of South Carolina.

Both contesting groups pegged their claims of recognition party on charges that leaders of the regular Democratic organizations of both states have bolted the party in the past and may do so again this year.

Stassen Says Few Delegates To Support Nixon

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11—UP—Harold E. Stassen said Saturday that less than one-sixth of the delegates to the Republican national convention are pledged to nominate Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Stassen accused Nixon's backers of "overstating" their claims that Nixon already has enough support to win the nomination on the first ballot.

"As of today," Stassen said, "less than one-third" of the delegates have made any kind of public declaration for Nixon's renomination and "less than 200 of the 1,323 delegates" to the convention are committed to the vice president.

Stassen, who took a four-week leave as President Eisenhower's disarmament adviser to try to block Nixon's renomination, also said his drive to nominate Gov. Christian Herter of Massachusetts rather than Nixon is picking up steam.

Some other Republicans expressed strong resentment against Stassen.

Ralph H. Bonnell, chairman of the Massachusetts delegation, said the Stassen campaign is "poorly timed and ill advised."

"I talked with Gov. Herter Thursday," Bonnell said in San Francisco. "He still intends to nominate Nixon and I think Nixon will be the Republican candidate. No Republican leader has joined Stassen in this effort and I think that it is not a serious movement."

X-Ray Unit Will Remain In Monroe Area Through 17th

The mobile x-ray unit will be in Monroe through Aug. 17, after which time the unit will complete its period for Ouachita parish.

The schedule for the unit, as released Saturday, includes: Carver Homes, Aug. 14; and Sears Town August 15 through 17.

Residents of Monroe have been urged to check the schedule and to visit the unit for chest x-rays. The service is offered by the state and parish health departments. All x-rays will be read for cancer, some heart conditions, and tuberculosis.

Every person x-rayed will receive a report by mail.

The Navy's Office of Naval Research is pioneering new possibilities for predicting weather conditions now that rockets are soaring to record heights equipped with cameras. Recently, pictures taken as high as 10 miles up revealed a remarkable portrait of storm clouds and weather over 1,250,000 square miles of the earth's surface.

Past And Present

By DORIS TYNES

Did you know Monroe and vicinity are about to have a Museum? Think of the number of times you have had guests in your home and have wished for something to show them, somewhere to take them that would be entertaining? Think of the tourists who pass through Monroe without stopping because we lack tourist attractions here! Think of your own vacations and trips which are never complete unless you have browsed through a museum of some sort! And think what it would mean to the merchants of this section in increased trade if we had a Museum worthy of attracting tourist trade.

It's a fact, we need a museum! And the people in this section who have expressed their opinions thus far have convinced me that Monroe wants a Museum!

President Lewis Slater of North east State College has offered space and facilities at the college for a museum collection to the Ouachita Genealogical and Historical Society. And now the drive is on to obtain items for display.

Do you have an old side saddle in your barn, or a tin bathtub in your attic? What about your great grandfather's spectacles, his old coffee mill, or pearl snuffbox? We propose to help you clean your attic, so to speak, to fill the cases at our museum. Your museum! Please don't throw anything away until you check with us... though of no value to you, it may be a museum piece.

Things of sentimental value may be loaned and reclaimed at any time. Contributions may be made by calling Mrs. Tynes at 2-6476, or writing Museum, Box 573, Monroe, La.

By MRS. MARIE KENT

President Lewis Slater of Northeast Louisiana State College has offered space and facilities at the college for a museum collection to the Ouachita Genealogical and Historical Society, which has been accepted on a temporary basis. Now a drive is on to obtain items for display. In trying to keep pace with modern times, many people are discarding old relics which have figured prominently in our backgrounds.

We are interested in collecting all things of historical nature, such as antiques, diaries, cooking utensils, bathtubs, side saddles, silverware, glassware, newspapers, wearing apparel, blue-back spellers, firearms, civil war relics, and so forth. Any one interested in contributing to this collection either by donation or loan may do so by contacting Mrs. Travis Tynes, telephone 2-6476, or by writing to Museum, Box 573, Monroe, La.

Northeast Louisiana State College has begun a museum, among which is a really outstanding collection of Indian relics — the Barringer collection. These articles are on display in the new administration building, and can be viewed by the public any time during school hours. This is a part of the college museum and is not to be confused with the historical collection which is being accumulated by the Ouachita Genealogical and Historical Society.

The Ouachita Genealogical and Historical Society is interested in helping anyone and everyone with their research. We will gladly help those just beginning to dig back into the past by supplying information on methods and types of research, and by furnishing them with the necessary forms for recording family data. Write to the Records Committee, Box 573, Monroe, La.

There is still time to become a charter member of this organization; however, time is growing short. The Board of Directors of the Louisiana Genealogical and Historical Society will meet on September 8, 1950 in New Orleans and will take into consideration our application for official acceptance as a chapter of the mother society.

Our chapter is being held open until we receive word from them that we have been approved. Those still desiring to become charter members may do so by paying their dues of $3.00 per year and by signing the charter. Mail checks to Mr. Fred Culver, Box 573, Monroe, La. You will receive the Genealogical Register published by the state society bi-monthly, and will be a member of the state society as well as our own local group. Those persons already belonging to the Louisiana Genealogical and Historical Society may join the Ouachita group by paying the additional fee of $1.00.

Membership is not limited to people of Monroe or Ouachita Parish. We now have several members from other parishes. Anyone living in Northeast Louisiana is invited to attend our meetings as a guest or become a member. The next regular meeting will be held at the Ouachita Parish courthouse on September 22, at 2 p.m.

Louisiana's Population May Reach 4 Million

BATON ROUGE, Aug. 11—UP—

Louisiana may have a population of more than 4,000,000 persons by 1975, population experts predicted today.

Two population researchers at Louisiana State University said a maximum increase may amount to 1,300,000 in the next 25 years. They based their estimates on trends of the last 46 years, but they admitted their predictions cannot be exact, but rather guesses.

Dr. Homer L. Hitt and Dr. Paul Price said the state's urban population will remain larger than the rural and that white population will increase faster than the Negro race.

Famous Painter To Lecture Here Next Thursday

Gil Wilson, noted American painter and technical advisor for the filming of the motion picture "Moby Dick," will visit Monroe Thursday as part of a 26-week, 52-city tour of the nation. While here, he will make two lectures to civic clubs.

The tour is being sponsored jointly by the Melville Society and Warner Brothers, producers of the sea epic.

The appearance in Monroe will be the only stop in north Louisiana for Wilson. He will come to Monroe from Tulsa, Okla., and continue on to Vicksburg, Miss.

Wilson's talks will be illustrated by a selection of color slides made from his collection of 300 "Moby Dick" paintings which tell the tumultuous story of Ahab, portrayed in the motion picture by Gregory Peck, and the white whale, and from technicolor shots of the fitting out of the "Pequod," Ahab's whaling vessel; and shots of the mechanical marvels of the manufacture of the white whale of the title.

Although Wilson, a native of Terre Haute, Ind., is primarily noted for his murals, his work on of the department of sociology's institute of population research.

The 1950 census showed Louisiana had a population of 2,684,000. New Orleans, Baton Rouge and Shreveport will take mighty spurts in growth, they estimated.

By 1975 New Orleans will be near the million mark; Baton Rouge will range from $150,000 to $300,000 and Shreveport 170,000 to 250,000.

Dr. Hitt said one of the major factors contributing to the expected growth is industrialization. He said great growth is now underway in the Gulf Coast's petro-chemical zone, which extends from Texas to Florida.

"Although for several decades Louisiana, as other southern states, has had a net loss from migration, recent evidence indicates that the state is now experiencing a net gain," Hitt said. "Industrialization is not only bringing in people from other states, but it is also redistributing many of our own people, particularly toward urbanization," he said.

Braves Wallop Reds, 6-3, To Protect National Lead

Adcock, Mathews Hammer Homers To Spark Victory

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 11 (UPI)—Eddie Mathews and Joe Adcock each run and drove in three runs apiece tonight as the front running Milwaukee Braves stunned Cincinnati, 6-3, and dropped the Redlegs down a peg to third place in the race-aут National League standings.

A standing room only County Stadium crowd of 45,003—fourth largest in the park's history—watched veteran lefthander Warren Spahn weather a ninthinning storm to stake down his 12th victory of the season and 195th of his career. The Braves' triumph, their seventh in 11 meetings with Cincinnati, made the National League standings look like this:

Milwaukee	64	42	604
Brooklyn	63	44	589
Cincinnati	63	45	583

The 35-year-old Spahn, whose career record over Cincinnati now is 37-13, held the heavy-hitting Redlegs pretty much in check until the last frame when they scored two runs. One rode home on Wally Post's 20th home run.

Mathews clobbered a pitch by starter and loser Hal Jeffcoat 475 feet over the right center field bleachers with one on in the third. It was his 25th of the season. Adcock hit his 28th of the year and fourth in the last six games with nobody aboard in the fifth off Joe Black.

Redskins Squeeze Back Into Second

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 11 (UPI)—The Cleveland Indians squeezed back into second place in the American League race with an 8-5 victory over the Kansas City Athletics, who lost despite Harry Simpson's grand slam homer in the fifth.

Simpson's wallop enabled the A's to tie the score 5-5 but Gene Woodling singled home Bobby Avila with what proved to be the winning run in the seventh.

The victory went to Don Mossi, second of three Cleveland pitchers used, and the defeat to Jack Crisman, who hurled effectively after the third.

COLTS WHIP EAGLES

HERSHEY, Pa., Aug. 11 (UPI)—George Shaw threw two touchdowns passes and Bert Rechichar booted a field goal as the Baltimore Colts spoiled Hugh Devore's debut as coach of the Philadelphia Eagles with a 24-13 National Football League exhibition victory at Hershey Stadium.

Rain Cancels Out Final Sports, Aces Game Here

Rain last night concluded Evangeline League rivalry for the season for the Monroe Sports and the Alexandria Aces unless they are fortunate enough to make the grade to the league's championship playoffs.

The sudden rain storm hit Monroe shortly before game time, and the downtown streets were flooded long before the heavy downpour hit Legion Memorial Stadium in the southern section of the city. It was the last scheduled appearance of the season here for Alexandria. Monroe had already made its last show in the Aces' home park Thursday.

The Sports today hit the "New Iberia lull" and appear in no more league games until Thursday and Friday at Lafayette. The Sports are back at Legion Memorial Stadium here next Saturday and Sunday for dates with Lafayette.

There are only ten more home playing dates for the Sports who are due to close the regular campaign with successive double headers at home against Crowley's Millers September 3-4.

In the world of fishing lures—feared in recent years by an armada bria-brac that might resemble anything from the bowsprit of a dragon ship to a piece of leftover plumbing—there is word on a startling new development.

It's a bait that looks like bait. And is.

Not only that, you can make one or a dozen—yourself for the price of a package of cigarettes, which is another departure from the recent self-navigating electronically equipped anti-fish hardware which in some cases require the services of a finance company or at least a dependable co-signer to acquire.

The new lure swept to popularity in the southeastern states, where the black bass in particular are both big and smart. And since bass alone are distributed about as widely across these United States as any fish, that in itself ought to be enough to encourage anglers to try it elsewhere.

This thing starts out with a pork chunk, but it's scarcely a grunting cousin of the bedizened dandy that's put up in jars by commercial baitmakers. When you start out with a pork chunk here, you really go for chunks—say one-sixth inches wide and a foot long with half-inch of fat left on the skin.

That skin is the important thing in the manufacture of what fishermen now call "eels" in the prime bass waters of Georgia, Florida and the Carolinas.

A good deal of pleasant research on the making and effectiveness of the pork eel has been done by Ed Johnson, outdoor editor of the Bastrop, one a grand slam in the first inning, and Bill Loftin in the fifth, for the circuit for the Barons.

Ira Simpson led Ruston's 15-hit attack with a first inning grand slam and a two-run double in the fifth as he batted in six runs for the night.

Ruston goes into the league's semi-final playoffs here Monday night against fourth place Linden, which beat Bernice tonight, Score by innings:

SPRINGHILL, La., Aug. 11 (Special)—The Homer Oilers defeated the Springhill Sports, 9-5, here to night to clinch second place in the Big Eight League when Minden dropped Bernice out of a tie for the spot.

Homer thus will host Bernice in a championship playoff opener here Monday night while Minden goes to Ruston.

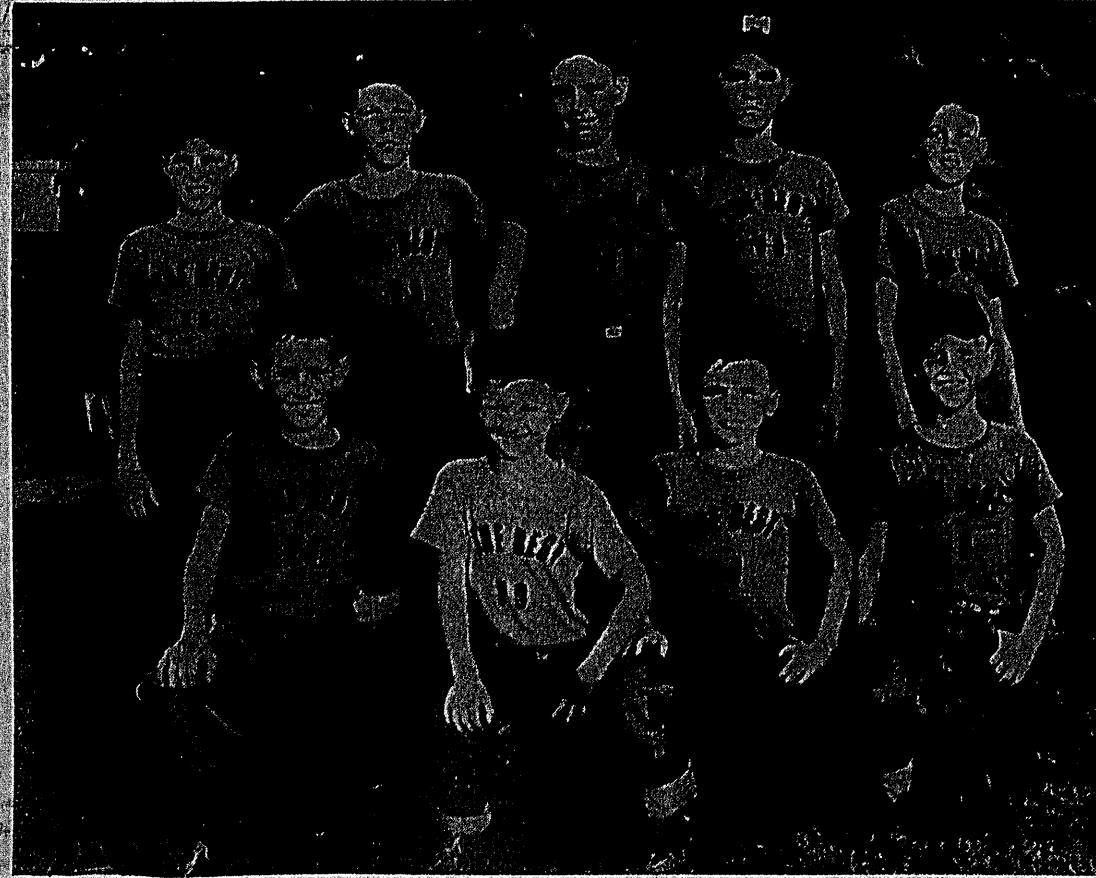

Sale and Jim Pace led Homer's attack with two hits apiece, and Tommy Bell homered for the Sports.

Wetlaufer Holds Five-Stroke Edge In Men's Amateur

CHICAGO, Aug. 11 (UP)—Ward Wetlaufer of Buffalo, N. Y., today maintained a five-stroke lead through the third round of the men's amateur "World" golf tournament with a 73 for 218, even par.

The 20-year-old golfer, team captain at Hamilton College in Clinton, N. Y., was out in 35 to chop one stroke from the Tom O'Shanter par, but skied to a two-over 78 on the back side.

He took bogey 5's on four of the last six holes, hitting the trees on one of them and three-putting the others.

Five strokes behind in second place was 250-pound Martin Stanovich, Tam O'Shanter Club member. He duplicated Wetlaufer's 73 for 221.

Al Barkow of Highland Park, Ill., former Tam caddy, dropped from second to third with 76 for 222. A 76 also lowered Dean Reffram of Medina, Ill., a Florida Southern University golfer, to fourth with 224.

Newcombe Wins His 18th Mound Job On Two Hits

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Aug. 11—UP—Pitcher Don Newcombe's string of consecutive scoreless innings was snapped at 39 1/3 Saturday by Stan Lopata's seventh-inning homer, but the Brooklyn Dodgers' ace righthander went on to complete a two-inning 5-2 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies.

The triumph was the ninth in a row and the 18th of the season for Newcombe, who now leads both major leagues in pitching victories. He started the game with a string of 33 consecutive shutout innings and was shooting off Carl Hubbell's National League record of 46 1/3.

Newcombe, who had pitched three consecutive shutouts, blanked the Phillies without a hit for six and one-third innings, facing a minimum of 18 men.

But with one out in the seventh, Mar. Blaylock blooped a hit into short center and Lopata followed with his 24th homer into the left field seats.

The two hits in the seventh were all that Newcombe permitted. In ever other inning, he faced only three men and the only other Phil to reach base was Granny Hamner, who walked with one out in the third and then was erased in a double play.

Fraser polished off Vic Seixas, the top-seeded American player, 8-6, 6-2, 11-9 in the other men's semifinal while Louise Brough and Althea Gibson advanced to the women's final.

Cooper became Richardson's third straight Australian victim since the Westfield, N. J., bridegroom, the No. 7 ranking U. S. player, ousted Roy Emerson and Ken Rosewall in previous matches.

In the women's matches, top-seeded Miss Brough, Beverly Hills, Calif., bounced out Darlene Hard, Montebello, Calif., 6-2, 3-6, 6-1 and Miss Gibson, New York City, eliminated Mrs. Dorothy Head Knob, Forest Hills, N. Y., 5-7, 6-3, 6-1.

Miss Gibson collaborated with Miss Hard to win the women's doubles, 6-2, 6-4 over Janet Hoppes, Seattle, and Diane Wootton, Santa Monica, Calif.

In the men's doubles, Rosewall and Fraser advanced to the final with a 6-3, 6-4 win over Mike Franks, Los Angeles, and Mike Green, Miami.

The Aussies will meet Seixas and Richardson, who stopped Sam Gammalva, Houston, and Barry Mackay, Dayton, 1-6, 6-3, 7-5.

MR. AND MRS. JAMES EDWARD MORGAN

Bermuda Wedding Of Interest To Monroe Friends

Of interest in Monroe is the marriage of James Edward Morgan, nephew of Mr. and Mrs. C. Fred Sailey of this city to Miss Dolores Louell Taylor, daughter of Major Fred G. Taylor, of Lake Worth, Fla., and Mrs. Louell Taylor of Southampton, which was celebrated in Christ Church, Warwick, last month.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a period gown of white eyelet embroidered organdy, the off shoulder neckline following the scalloped pattern of the eyelet. The fitted bodice had tiny cap sleeves and was moulded to the body to the hip line. The skirt was of three wide flounces of the embroidered organdy. She wore a heart shaped cap of organza and eyelet, highlighted by seed pearls and sequins and a shoulder length veil of illusion tulle. Her bouquet was a lovely spray of pink and white roses, a color theme that was noted throughout the wedding.

Miss Sandra Taylor, the bride's sister, was maid of honor in a ballerina-length gown of pale pink organdy. She wore a wreath of pink and white bougainvillea, and carried pink and white roses. The bride's young sister, Miss Griselda Taylor and her cousin, Miss Jo Anne Johnson, were flower girls, gowned in short fluffy pink organza dresses, just a shade lighter than that of the maid of honor. They too wore pink and white bougainvillea wreaths but carried little baskets of mixed summer flowers.

The ceremony was performed by the Reverend Eric Rule before an altar decorated with white gladioli. The pews, carrying out the color theme, were decked with double pink hibiscus and geraniums.

The groom's best man was Jack Kermitz and the ushers, Harry Viera, Eldon Madieros, cousins of the bride, John King and Roland Wegener.

An outdoor reception was held on the law of the Sherwood Manor following the ceremony.

The couple will honeymoon in Bermuda until September 1 when they leave for the United States, to continue their studies.

The bride is a graduate of Warwick Academy and for the past three years has been a student at the Richmond Professional Institute, of the College of William and Mary.

The groom is a graduate of Ouachita Parish High School and has served four years with the U. S. navy, with two years of his service in Bermuda. He will enter his sophomore year as an electrical engineering student at the Virginia Polytechnic Institute in Richmond, in September.

Walker-Mann Vows Pledged In Home Ceremony

A profusion of white gladioli and greenery decorated the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Mann, Jr., in Rayville, when their daughter, Miss Sandra Jesolle Mann, became the bride of William Frank Walker, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Walker also of Rayville. The Reverend T. J. McCartney performed the marriage vows and Mrs. Joe Harper provided the nuptial music.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was dressed in silvery blue silk. The bodice was fashioned with a long waist and cap sleeves. The bouffant skirt was straight length. Her shoes were the same shade and she wore a small white hat of lace encrusted with rhinestones and a half veil. Her only ornament was an heirloom brooch belonging to her grandmother. She carried a bouquet of tuberose and sweetheart roses mounted on a fan.

Miss Wilma Tower was the maid of honor. Her dress was of blue dotted swiss with matching accessories. She wore a blue carnation corsage. Miss Susie Mann, sister of the bride was the other attendant. She wore a grey summer frock with pink flowers pinned at her shoulder.

John Walker was his brother's best man.

A reception followed the ceremony. Mrs. Mann received her guests in a dress of bleige cotton and with this she wore a corsage of gold and amber chrysanthemums. Mrs. Walker chose for her sons wedding an aqua sheer with matching accessories and a corsage of lavender flowers. Also receiving was Mrs. John Jordan, grandmother of the bride, who was wearing a bleige suit and pink corsage.

Mrs. Joe Inelichen and Mrs. Joe Harper assisted in serving.

For her wedding trip to New Orleans, Mrs. Walker traveled in a blue suit with matching hat and shoes. On their return they are residing in Rayville.

Out of town guests for the wedding were Mrs. John Jordan, of Homer, Mr. and Mrs. Lenfield Gillory of South Carolina and Mr. Peck Wilson, of Columbia.

MR. AND MRS. JACK FROST STEELE

MISS DORIS VIRGINIA PARKER'S engagement and approaching marriage to Lt. Bobby Ray Gassiot, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Gassiot, of Winnfield, is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Coleman C. Parker of Winnsboro. The wedding will take place at 7:30 o'clock in the evening, September 1, at the First Baptist Church of Winnfield.

Steel-Cockrell Vows Pledged In Church Ceremony

Of widespread social interest throughout this area is the marriage of Miss Ruth Cockrell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. U. C. Cockrell, and Jack Frost Steele, son of Mrs. Amma Steele and the late Mr. J. C. Steele, Sr., which was solemnized at the First Methodist church in West Monroe.

Rev. W. D. Milton, church pastor, heard the exchange of vows in the double ring ceremony, marked with beautiful solemnity.

Branched candelabra and floor baskets of pink gladioli were effective against a background of greenery and rendered a picture-like setting.

Nuptial music on the organ was played by Mrs. W. W. Watson; the candles were lighted by Stanley Burkett and Aylmer Montgomery, Jr., who also served as ushers.

Mrs. Watson accompanied the soloist, Mrs. Roy Brooks, who sang "Because," "I Love You Truly" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Miss Virginia Cockrell was her sister's maid of honor, and wore blue nylon chiffon over matching taffeta.

The tucked bodice was fitted and the ballerina-length skirt was extremely full. Her headband was studded with pink asters and she carried a bouquet of the pink flowers caught with loops of matching satin ribbon.

Bridesmaids were Miss Barbara Cockrell, cousin of the bride, and Miss Jean Taylor, whose gowns were pink and mist green, respectively, and made identical to that worn by the maid of honor. Their head-pieces and bouquets were also identical.

Serving the groom as best man was his brother, Mr. Jim Steele, and groomsmen were Jimmy Williams and Robert Layton, Jr.

Preceding the bride to the altar was the little flower girl, Lael Kilpatrick, whose dress was fashioned similar to those worn by the other attendants, but in a shade of yellow, with matching head-piece.

She carried a basket, caught with yellow ribbon, from which she scattered petals in the path of the bride.

Given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. Alton Burkett, the bride was wearing a gown of bridal white lace and not over taffeta. The moulded bodice was buttoned down the front with a sentinel row of self-covered buttons. The fitted sleeves came to points over the wrists, and the high neckline was finished with a band of the net. The voluminous skirt was a ballerina-length.

Her fingertip veil was caught to a crown studded with seed pearls, and she carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid surrounded with tuberoses.

Mrs. Cockrell chose for her daughter's wedding, a pink lace with pink accessories, a blue and pink hat and a corsage of blue carnations and tuberoses, while the mother of the groom wore blue lace with white accessories and a corsage of white carnations and tuberoses.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlor and hosted by Mrs. Alton Burkett, Mrs. F. C. McConnell, Mrs. Jack Thompson, Miss Dove Goodlett, Mrs. R. G. Taylor, Miss Kay McCue and Miss Linda Steele.

The bride's table was overlaid with white linen cutwork and was centered with the tiered wedding confection, fringed with pink asters and flanked with burning tapers.

The punch service was placed on a side table and was also surrounded with the pink blossoms.

Mrs. Grover Brown served the cake, assisted by Miss Agatha Burkett, and Mrs. Roy McCue registered the guests in the bride's book.

For a wedding trip to Miami, Florida, the bride changed to a grey two-piece model with white accents, and pinned to the shoulder was the orchid from her wedding bouquet.

They will be at the home to their friends at 1418 Willis Street.

Rehearsal Supper

Mrs. J. C. Steele, Jr., and Miss Agatha Burkett entertained at an after-rehearsal party at the Rendezvous Friday evening. White tapers and white blossoms decorated the buffet table. Similar arrangements were used on the individual tables where the guests were seated.

For the occasion Miss Cockrell wore a trouser model of ivory polished cotton.

Attending the party were: Rev. and Mrs. Milton, Mr. and Mrs. U. C. Cockrell, Mrs. Amma Steele, Mr. Arnold Kilpatrick, Miss Lael Kilpatrick, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Aylmer Montgomery, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Roy Brooks, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Brothers, Mr. and Mrs. Roy McCue, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Steele, Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Burkett, Miss Virginia Cockrell, Robert Layton, Jr., Miss Opal Jean Taylor, Stanley Burkett, Miss Barbara Cockrell, Ronald Cowden, Miss Beverly Sherwood, Miss Jessie Cockrell, Miss Dove Goodlett, Miss Kay McCue, Joe Cumming, Miss Linda Steele, Ike McMullin and Miss Agatha Burkett.

The bride's table was overlaid with white linen cutwork and was decorated with pink blossoms.

VFW Head Claims
McKeon 'Fall Guy'
In Court Martial

DALLAS Aug. 11 (UP)—Timothy J. Murphy of Boston, Mass., commander-in-chief of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, said today a sergeant convicted in the drowning of six Marine recruits at Parris Island, S. C., was a "fall guy" in a "pass-the-buck" affair.

Murphy, who will wind up his VFW commandership at the national convention opening here

Sunday, said the court martial of Staff Sgt. Matthew C. McKeon was "a hasty action to show the American public someone was responsible" for the drowning of the recruits at the Marine base.

Murphy said he was of the opinion that the drownings were "purely accidental." The type of training in which they were engaged when the mishap occurred was common practice in Marine Corps training.

He predicted the VFW would go on record in criticism of the entire McKeon affair.

Registration for the convention opens Sunday with actual sessions getting under way Monday. The VFW said an estimated 35,000 to 45,000 visitors would be in Dallas for the convention, which winds up next Saturday.

Among the highlights will be addresses by Vice President Richard M. Nixon at 11:30 a. m. Monday, by Defense Secretary Charles Wilson at 11 a. m. Wednesday, and by United States UN delegate Henry Cabot Lodge, Monday night at a distinguished guests' banquet.

The annual military parade will be staged at 7 p. m. Tuesday.

Ingenious crewmen of the USS CORAL SEA (CVA 43) developed what is believed to be one of the fastest methods ever devised for getting aids to a man overboard. Instead of heaving the lifeboat overboard by hand, it is released from a basket mounted on the port and starboard quarters of the overhead on the flight deck. In an emergency, the man on watch simply pulls a wire connected by remote control to a quick-release catch, and releases and inflates the lifeboat.

Oil Production To Be Cut 12,000 Barrels Per Day

BATON ROUGE Aug. 11—UP—A 12,000 barrel per day net cut in Louisiana oil allowable has been announced by John B. Hussey, conservation commissioner.

Hussey said the cut affect offshore production with a slight increase for inshore wells in the depth bracket formula.

Inshore production allowable is to be upped one per cent over August to 40 per cent of the depth bracket in effect in March, 1953. Hussey said it was an "emergency measure" and that offshore wells in September will receive allowables on a depth bracket formula based on one and one-half times the inshore depth bracket.

He said the move would result in a reduction of some 20,000 barrels per day for September.

Hussey said the reduction takes into account an estimated 8,000 barrels per day of new production.

Bob Crosby's Wife Files For Divorce

HOLLYWOOD Aug. 11 (UP)—Bandleader Bob Crosby's second wife of 17 years charged in her divorce complaint on file today that her musician-husband had struck her and frequently threatened physical harm.

Mrs. June Crosby, 36-year-old former Chicago debutante and singer, filed the superior court suit for divorce Friday on grounds of extreme cruelty. Mrs. Crosby also asked the court for a restraining order to prevent her 43-year-old husband, brother of crooner Bing Crosby, from molesting or annoying her.

Education And Culture Support Asked By Rabbi

Rabbi Jacob Lantz Friday night urged the congregation of the Temple B'Nai B'Rith to support the present day American habit of "doing everything in digest form."

This "digest or quick" form, he said, ranges from getting rich quick to becoming culturally rich quick. However, to become culturally rich, in the true sense of the words, Rabbi Lantz pointed out, one must study and re-study in order to get the proper education.

"The reputation of the community is based on the type of facilities which it provides, and a public library is one of the community facilities of today," he said.

Referring to the present cold war and battle for men's minds, Rabbi Lantz emphasized free nations must provide its people with educational facilities, including public libraries and books of all nature.

The USS PHILIPPINE SEA is known to Navy men as "SHOW-BOAT" because it was formerly used to take important government officials on cruises in the Far East.

nism and other forms of belief alien to the American way of life. Rabbi Lantz, in his address, referred specifically to the proposed bond election next Tuesday for the expansion and improvement of the Ouachita parish public library.

Using the topic "Books Are Our Weapons", Rabbi Lantz deplored the present day American habit of "doing everything in digest form." This "digest or quick" form, he said, ranges from getting rich quick to becoming culturally rich quick. However, to become culturally rich, in the true sense of the words, Rabbi Lantz pointed out, one must study and re-study in order to get the proper education.

Crossett Company Converts 'Waste' Into New Product

CROSSETT, Ark., Aug. 11 (Special)—The Crossett Lumber Company has made another giant stride forward toward its goal of 100 per cent utilization of each tree harvested with the installation of new equipment to convert hardwood flooring mill waste, formerly burned for fuel, into a desirable and useful wood product.

The new product is paper roll plugs, which are traditionally made from solid wood.

According to H. S. Mersereau, Crossett Lumber Company manager, the new machinery is now in operation on a 24-hour-per-day, seven-day-per-week schedule, producing 400 to 500 plugs each hour. He said that the present equipment has worked out so successfully that another improved machine with increased capacity will be installed in the immediate future.

The new product is paper roll plugs, which are traditionally made from solid wood.

At the present time, almost all of the production is going to Crossett Paper Mills, but some of the plugs are being sold to other paper manufacturers. The lumber company is also now exploring market possibilities for specialty plugs.

The new process works like this: waste is taken from the flooring machines and broken into fine sawdust-size particles. The material is then mixed with glue, forced into molds under pressure and "cured" for about 12 minutes under 300 degree temperature. Operating under the supervision of Planing Mill Superintendent Sam Helm, the new installation employs two men each shift.

Mersereau has termed the new machinery "a very significant conservation tool" because it provides for the utilization of scraps which once had to be burned for fuel and because the item produced replaces one that was formerly made from solid wood of a quality useable in other products.

The new product is superior to regular plugs because of uniformity of size, better strength properties, and stability in storage.

The Crossett Lumber Company is the first firm in the United States to operate one of the machines.

Rehabilitation Polio Center In Texas Reopened

GONZALES, Tex., Aug. 11 (Special)—Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation, the Texas rehabilitation center, has opened its doors to polio patients and victims of other crippling diseases throughout the United States.

The foundation is fully approved by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals, which embraces the American College of Physicians, American College of Surgeons, American Hospital Association and the Canadian Medical Associations.

"Naturally out of state patients will be taken in limited numbers according to our bed space capacity, and applications must be made ahead of time," said Walter Richter, director of public relations. "Applications may be secured by writing to our Registrar, Box 58, Gonzales, Texas."

Then the application must be filled out by the patients and their local physician and returned to the registrar at the above address.

Although poliomyelitis cases presently predominate at the foundation, the hospital facilities are so designed both personnel and equipment, to treat other types of cases such as cerebral palsy, mul-iple sclerosis, muscular dystrophy, arthritis and other neuro-muscular diseases and musculoskeletal disorders.

"It has come to our attention that many states do not have the large rehabilitation facilities we offer here, and as we have room we would like to help anyone who needs it," said Richter.

Situated on 40 acres of land at the edge of Palmetto State Park, which contains several hundred acres, the foundation has six large separate units including a school for crippled children patients.

There is of course, also the large outdoor pool which along with two smaller indoor pools, is fed by water from the warm springs from which the foundation gets its name.

Reservists Leave Sunday For Texas

CROSSETT, Ark., Aug. 11 (Special) — Approximately fifteen U.S. Army reservists of Crossett and Hamburg will leave from El Dorado Sunday, to begin their annual two weeks of summer training at Fort Sam Houston in San Antonio, Texas.

The Reservists are members of the 315th Logistical Command of El Dorado, which is commanded by Col. Jeff W. Sawyer of Hamburg.

For the past several years this unit has gone to Fort Sill, Oklahoma, where it has been in charge of summer camps for various reserve units of the southwest. However, this year the unit, according to Col. Sawyer, will be going to Fort Sam Houston to participate in a new type of training.

During the first week of their training all members of the unit will take part in a review of basic military subjects including familiarization firing of all weapons with which they are armed.

For the second week, the unit will take part in a seven day map exercise. This will require the officers and men of the unit to solve various problems that arise in supplying a field army during a 15-day period following an invasion of enemy territory.

Col. Sawyer said that he is very pleased with the proposed training since it would cover the type of work that his unit would be expected to perform in the event it was recalled to active duty.

The unit will return to El Dorado on August 26 by means of chartered buses.

CDR Charles Brendler, USN, leader of the United States Navy Band, began his naval career at the age of 15 when he went aboard the USS FLORIDA with his clarinet under his arm. His outstanding musical ability projected him from an enlisted status to the rank of full Commander, and today he leads one of the finest groups of musicians to be found anywhere in the world.

ENTER ORDER OF ARROW — Frank A. Cain, Jr., left, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cain, and Purvis Thomas, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Purvis Thomas, all of Lake Providence, were recently initiated into the "Order of the Arrow," Boy Scout society.

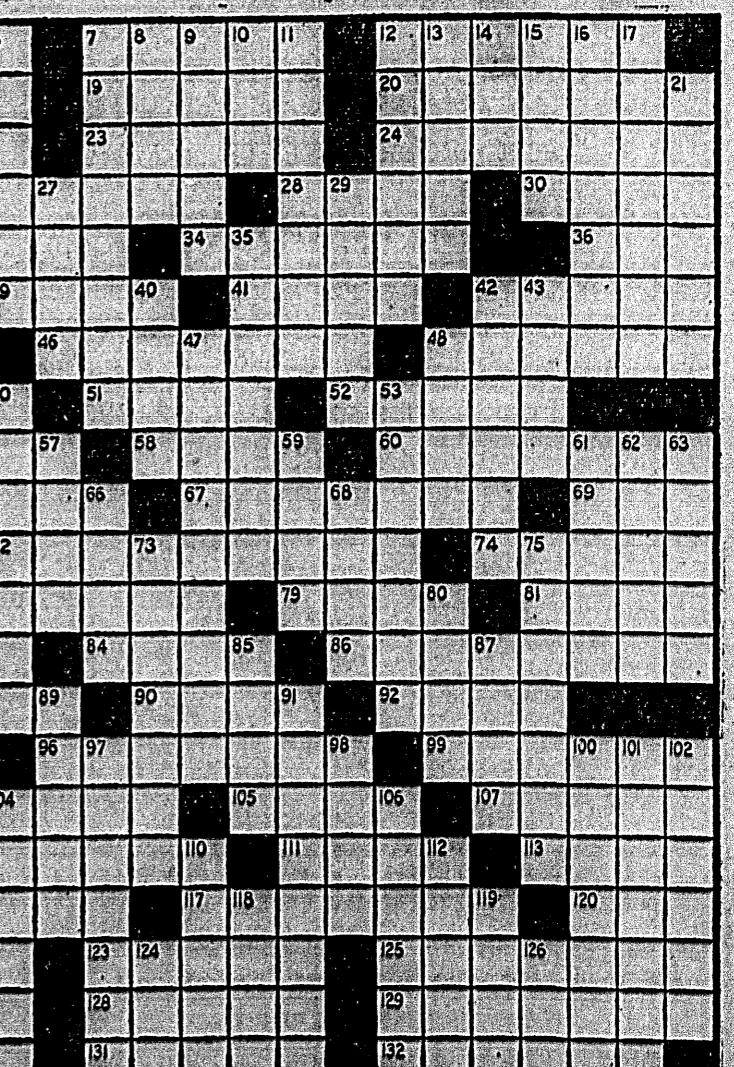

AT FIELD'S, Miss Peggy Hines is shown selecting her "Back-To-School" wardrobe. Modeling a coordinated group of a grey Fiocca skirt (Italian imported fabric) with a winter cherry sculptured orlon sweater in dyed-to-match colors. Her shoes are black suede flats by Velvet Step and she is admiring the new saddle oxfords with the Italian look by Marva. She is being assisted by Mr. Bob Gavoli.

The Navy's vertical take-off ers like a helicopter when it was officially tested in the huge hangar rose to a height of 60 feet where at Moffett Naval Air Station, Calif., it hung motionless on its propellors.

You get more car when you buy it... more dollars when you sell it! Chevy has the highest resale value of the leading low-priced models!

Why people who used to buy higher priced cars are changing to Chevrolet

Sales and official registration figures show that the higher priced cars are losing more and more buyers to Chevrolet. And it isn't just because a Chevrolet costs less, either!

If you buy a higher priced car instead of a Chevrolet, what do you get in return for those extra hundreds of dollars?

More room? No, because the difference in room is usually measured in fractions of inches—often in Chevrolet's favor! Better roadability? Not with Chevy's wedged-to-the-road stability and sure-footed cornering ability. Better performance? Well, Tom McCahill, automotive expert for Mechanix Illustrated, called Chevrolet "the greatest performance buy ever offered at any time in America!" Result: more buyers are deciding they'd rather drive a sweet-handling Chevrolet even if it didn't cost less! Wouldn't you?

America's largest selling car—2 million more owners than any other make!

Only franchised Chevrolet dealers display this famous trademark

Outboard Races Set at Crosscut On 70-Mile Course

GROSSETO, Ark. Aug. 11 (Special) — The Crosscut Boating club has made preliminary plans to sponsor an outboard marathon race on Labor Day.

According to J. R. Weatherly, Jr., president, the proposed course will be from Brown's camp to Moro Ban and return a distance of approximately 70 miles.

A predicted time race will be held. Each driver will estimate the time required to run the course, the winner will be the one who runs the course closest to the time estimated. No watches will be permitted.

Deluxe Sleeping Comfort, at Low, Low Cost! Fine Quality Harmony House

mittled. Driving skill, rather than speed, will be the determining factor in this event.

More detailed information about the marathon race will be released in the near future. The events will be open to anyone who has a good boat and motor.

An hour-long water show will direct the race. Following the race, a picnic will be held at the club site for members and drivers and their families.

Some Plants Need Little Fertilizing

Studying recent findings on fertilizing plants I've come up with some rather different ideas. It seems, according to our renowned soil people, that some plants just do better without fertilization. This business of feeding vegetation is a complicated subject and new things are constantly being learned about the best fertilizer treatments for various plants under different conditions.

In general, plants certainly thrive by being fed. Others produce fewer blossoms when fertilized. Very heavy feeders are petunias, scabiosa, pansies, shasta daisies, cornflower, sweet pea. These plants are moderately heavy feeders: zinnia, dahlias, stocks, asters, marigold, pink larkspur.

There are some that need no feeding but they do profit by having fertilizer mixed in the soil before planting. Some of those that prefer poor soil are nasturtium, California poppy, tithonia, morning glory, black-eyed Susan vine, cosmos.

According to the research done by our author, petunias and verbena just don't flower as much when they are fertilized. You know, I've stopped and pondered.

Printing Course Offered At School In Natchitoches

NATCHITOCHES, Aug. 11 (Special) — Classes in basic printing will begin at the Natchitoches Trade School on September 10, according to Henry McTyre, director of the school.

The courses in printing will cover hand and platen press work, and advanced press work will be given on the Kluge automatic and the Mehl vertical press.

Two linotype machines are available at the school to make possible the training of linotype operators, McTyre said.

Pre-employment training will be offered from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. Mondays through Fridays. Evening classes for extension training will be held at the hours that meet the convenience of the students.

Pre-employment training courses will last two years and the extension classes will be of such length as is necessary to meet the training needs of the local situation. No tuition fees will be charged.

A college town, Natchitoches affords board and room at reasonable prices.

Rodeo Scheduled At Dodson For

August 16-18

DODSON, Aug. 11 (Special) — On Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights, there will be a rodeo at the Dodson arena, sponsored by the Dodson Riders club.

A huge parade will be staged at 5 p.m. Thursday in the Dodson community. It is expected that between three and four hundred horses will be in the parade. All riding clubs in north Louisiana have been invited to participate.

Widely known cowboys and girls from Texas, Oklahoma and Louisiana will take part in this big three-day event.

There will be seven thrilling events, bareback riding, wild steer racing, steer wrestling (or bulldogging), calf roping, tie down, wild brahma riding, wild cow milking, and girls' barrel race.

Student Insurance Adopted In LaSalle

JENA, Aug. 11 (Special) — Appointment of two citizens advisory building committees, adoption of a contract with a new insurance firm for student accident insurance and approval of a resignation and a leave of absence highlighted the monthly meeting of the LaSalle parish school board.

With plans under way for building new elementary school buildings at Urania and Ola, the school board appointed a citizens advisory building committee in each community to work with the school board in making plans for the new buildings.

An insurance plan, submitted by Higham, Neilson, Whitridge and Reed, Inc., for student accident insurance in the public schools of LaSalle parish was adopted by the board.

The students insurance program is entirely voluntary on the part of the student and his or her parents, Shiel said.

The policy protects the student against accidents on the way to and from school and while engaged in school and campus activities on the school grounds.

Jena Voters Okay $50,000 Bond Issue

JENA, Aug. 11 (Special) — Overwhelming approval of a proposed $50,000 bond issue for the purpose of constructing a swimming pool and park and recreation area in the town of Jena was given by the property-owning voters of the town in a special election held here this week.

Only one vote was cast against the proposed bond issue.

The Agriculture Department expects the current level of retail food prices to hold for the remainder of the year. The forecast is based on a combination of expanding consumer buying power and a slight drop in the supplies of food.

Beginning September 1, frozen or canned chicken or turkey pies carrying the Federal inspection mark will include 14 per cent or more cooked poultry meat. That's a new requirement and applies only to those processors who operate under the voluntary Federal Poultry Inspection Service. So — look for that on your label if you want more meat in your pie. This 25 per cent increase is in addition to any broth, fat, giblets or skin that may be used.

Poultry gets top ranking in the agriculture list for August. The 1956 gobbler crop is coming to market early this year. Look for supplies of broiler-fryer sized turkeys, which are especially suited for barbecuing.

There is an excellent barbecue sauce for turkeys:

1 cup Worcestershire sauce
2 sticks of butter or margarine
1 cup water
2 tablespoons paprika
2 tablespoons salt
2 tablespoons sugar

Mix and let come to a boil.

There are several ways to barbecue turkey. You can cut the bird in frying size pieces, place in a shallow pan, cover with barbecue sauce and let cook at 350 degrees until tender, turning once during cooking.

There's no taste like the smoky flavor given turkey when you barbecue over the pit. Here you need a rotisserie, but if you're content to spend an afternoon reading a good book and turning the bird every fifteen minutes you'll get the same good product. Just more work.

If you have an electric oven with rotisserie all you have to do is put the turkey on and baste every fifteen minutes until the drumstick "wiggles."

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

Great Variety Of Questions Asked Josephine Lowman

It would be impossible to imagine the great variety of questions which pour into my office. Over and over again I say to my secretary, "Now I have been asked everything" BUT soon a brand new question comes along.

Women want to know about how to reduce the abdomen and waist and hips, how to correct round shoulders or increase the bust measurement, what to do about a double chin or crows feet, sparse eyebrows, fat noses or flat feet, short height, large hands, bow legs, overweight and underweight. These are just a few of the questions.

Then there are questions in the emotional realm, problems in boredom, frustration, loneliness, the worry, a bit, irritability, fear, marital trouble, stresses of all kinds.

My contact with my readers is one of the things I like best about this column. I send them information when I have it. If I don't know the answer I refer them to the proper authorities. I am consoled when I cannot be of help by the thought that maybe I was a safety valve anyway.

The results which can be obtained from diet and exercise are truly miraculous. However when a problem entails bone structure, I am no magician! A great deal can be done with exercise in correcting a spinal curvature, if it is arrested soon enough, but such exercises should be taken under the direct supervision of an expert in this line. Round shoulders can be greatly improved, too. So can general posture. With these I can be of help.

One question which comes over and over again is what to do about fat across the shoulders and under the arm. I have recently given corrective exercises for fat across the back. Today we will consider fat under the arms. This figure defect is not attractive when a woman is wearing swim suits, play clothes or evening gowns.

These exercises are corrective to underarm fat.

1. Stand erect, arms hanging at your sides. Raise your arms overhead with stiff elbows, the backs of your hands turned toward one another so that you touch the backs of your hands together high over your head. Reach up as high as you can and feel the pull. Return arms to sides. Continue.

2. Stand with your left side toward the wall, with your feet about two feet away from it. Place the left hand on the wall. Raise your right arm up by your head. Bend toward the left, touching the fingers of your right hand to the wall. Raise trunk to erect position and lower right arm to side. Continue. After awhile turn your right side to the wall and raise your left arm when bending to the right. This is also a good waist slimming exercise.

If you would like to have my tested exercises which will take a few inches from your waist measurement in a few weeks time, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 6, "Don't Go to Wash," to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Hard Of Hearing Helped By Patented Invention!

U. S. Patent No. 2,611,829 has made possible an eyeglass hearing aid that requires no wire, no tube, no receiver or earmold, no device that "plugs in" either ear. Developed by Acousticon, oldest and leading manufacturer of electrical hearing aids, the invention makes possible more comfortable inconspicuous correction for thousands who have hearing difficulties.

This exclusive invention is built right into the Spectacon eyeglass hearing aid. The eyeglass frames are made by a leading optical company and are available in any size. They make no sacrifice of optical standards.

You may see for yourself how this remarkable hearing development works—how it is as easy to put on or take off as any pair of glasses. Demonstration is free — see and hear for yourself, without obligation.

1. SOME PEOPLE REQUIRE THE UNUSUAL FOR PLEASURE.
TRUE FALSE

Answer to Question No. 1
1. True, says Dr. John A. S. Schindler, in his fine book, "How To Live 365 Days A Year." This fall club was inaugurated, 300 children read books centered around the theme of "The Magic Castle of Reading."

The following year, 1950, the number more than doubled, with a total of 620. This year the theme was "Keep Louisiana Green," which coincided with a forestry project then being undertaken throughout the state.

For the following four years the numbers ranged from 736, and 534, 818, and 1,120.

Last year saw another large jump to 1,508 children. This year, with still another month to go, 979 children have already attained their goal. Total enrollment, most of which will receive certificates by the end of the summer period, is 2,300.

This exclusive invention is built right into the Spectacon eyeglass hearing aid. The eyeglass frames are made by a leading optical company and are available in any size. They make no sacrifice of optical standards.

The Best Friend Your Dog or Cat Could Have!

FOLEY'S

Record Review

This has been a great year for Julius LaRosa. It is the year of his marriage. And as Perry Como's summer replacement, he is making great progress in television as a singer and emcee.

LaRosa owes some of his success to the whims of Arthur Godfrey, but he also has a native talent as a singer and soon would have faded had he not proved he was more than a castoff.

Some of LaRosa's best work after his abrupt dismissal by Godfrey was made on the Cadence label which put him over as a top pop singer. Cadence has released 12 of these on a 12-inch LP, including "Domani," "No Other Love," and "My Funny Valentine."

Andy Griffith, who recently left the Broadway cast of "No Time for Sergeants," has recorded a tune of that name with a vocal group led by Glenn Osser (Capitol), but the flipover, "Standing on the Corner," is the more entertaining side. Andy injects some pertinent comments on girl-watching between the choruses.

On the silicon side: M-G-M has released two albums (also available on 45 rpm's) of soft music just for listening. One is "Starlit Hour," a dozen compositions by Peter de Rose (among them "Deep Purple" and "Blue September") played by the English orchestra leader Ambrose. The other is "Night Moods," an offering of pulsing music by another British group, "The Gregory - Preager Orchestra."

Tops in Pops — "Ninety-Eight Cents" by the Mills Brothers (Decade) ... "You're a Honey" by the Four Knights (Capitol), "High Upon a Mountain" by Andy Williams (Cadence), "Champs Elysees" by Lou Breeze (Bally), "Grilevin" by Rosemary Clooney with Duke Ellington (Columbia) and "Railroadin' Man" by Len Dressler (Mercury).

Off-beat record of the week — "On Location" and "Mr. Chairman," by Bob Corley (Rca-Victor). This is done in the Andy Griffith style. It's a little more pungent but lacks Griffith's natural warmth.

Borrowers At Library Here Are Tripled

A progress report of the Ouachita parish public library for the past eight years, or since 1947, shows the number of registered borrowers has increased threefold with the largest percentage of gain being among the juvenile users.

Miss Frances Flanders, parish librarian, said the number of youngsters using the public library in 1947 was 1,203, compared with 13,909 at the close of July of this year. The number of adult borrowers in the same period jumped from 4,224 in 1947 to 10,134 for the year ending last month.

In 1949 the Ouachita parish public library received the Modisette award, which is given to the public library having made the most progress during the preceding year. The award is given annually by the Louisiana Library Association.

The increase in the number of books circulated during the same period shows an even larger increase, with the juvenile books increasing almost 600 per cent. In 1947, the total juvenile books circulated were 33,250, compared to 190,438 for the year 1955. In adult books 1947 saw a total of 60,026 books circulated. Last year 112,020, or twice the previous figure were circulated.

Turning to the number of books in the library collection, the eight year period has seen a growth of twice the size in 1947. Of the 22,823 which the library boasted in 1947, 18,749 were for adults and the remainder for juveniles. As of August 1 of this year the library had a total of 45,306 books, with 31,557 for adults and 13,749 for juveniles.

In the thirty years prior to 1947, the library had collected the 22,823 registered books in 1947. During the past eight years, this number has doubled. In commenting on this, Miss Flanders pointed out that many of these books received during the past eight years were given as memorials to persons, while most were purchased through the library funds.

What do you know about mental illness?

Do you know that it is common, does not attack without warning, is not necessarily inherited? These and many other vital facts are explained clearly in booklet, "When Mental Illness Strikes Your Family." For a copy send 25c (postage only) and your name and address to Dr. A. E. skilled manpower in industry, that thousands of firms are recruiting juniors as well as seniors. Starting salaries, $350-$450, are up to $10 and $25 per month over last year. One college is forming a "Year Abroad" plan for juniors and seniors with transportation costs covered by the college. College students never had it so good!

Opening lead: King of diamonds.

We have frequently deplored the growing tendency toward artificial conventions. Not that we deny the merit of these devices, but because of numerous abuses committed in their name. Observe today's mournful performance by West, a player far above average.

Against the final contract of five clubs, West opened the king of diamonds, and East, convinced that a continuation of the suit was necessary for a successful defense, followed with the queen, as loud a signal as he had at his disposal.

West, improbably construing this as a suit preference signal, promptly shifted to the deuce of spades.

Under the suit preference (lead directing) convention, when partner of the leader follows suit with a card which is unnecessarily and unusually high at a time when it is unmistakable that a shift is in order, such play directs a lead of the higher ranking side suit. Dumbly played, West chose to play the nine, which forced South's queen. From here in declarer had an unobstructed road to game. A heart to the jack drove out East's ace, and subsequently South was able to ruff a diamond and a spade on the king and queen of hearts, picking up East's jack of clubs on a later round.

Had West continued with a diamond at trick two, declarer would have had no chance for his contract, for when East obtained the lead with the heart ace, a third diamond lead would force dummy to ruff with an

'The Proud And The Profane' At Paramount Today

A daring and compelling love story, as frank as any of the motion picture medium has ever presented, is the theme dramatized by two of the screen's most powerful performers, William Holden and Deborah Kerr. In "The Proud and Profane," Paramount film opening today at the Paramount Theatre. Taken from a sensational best-selling novel by Lucy Herndon Crockett, the behind-the-lines drama of World War II promises to be an unusually dramatic emotional experience.

The production handiwork of William Perlberg and George Seaton, makers of "The Country Girl," "The Bridges At Toko-Ri" and "Little Boy Lost," the Vista-Vision film co-stars Thelma Ritter and Dewey Martin and features William Redfield and Ross Bagdasarian, a cast that guarantees a gallery of fine performances.

The setting of "The Proud and Profane" is the South Pacific island of New Caledonia, an outpost of the critical island invasion phase of the Pacific war. Holden portrays a Marine Raiders colonel, a hard-bitten disciplinarian implacably hostile to anyone or anything that softens his men for combat — an openly expressed prejudice that extends to chaplains and Red Cross women.

Into contact with this flinty man comes Miss Kerr's Red Cross volunteer Deborah Kerr, and the sparks fly from first meeting. She is well-bred, reserved, proper, and icy virtues that act like a red flag to Holden. He determines to break her at any price and by any means, but he has no inkling of the fire that burns beneath the ice. In spite of herself, she responds, and between these two violently opposed personalities grows a love that defies all convention and overrides all sense of prudence and restraint.

In the role of Miss Kerr's Red Cross boss is Thelma Ritter. Aware of the relationship from the beginning, wise to the ways of love, she tries to hold them back from the disaster they are inevitably creating for themselves.

Aware, too, is Dewey Martin, one of Holden's young but veteran Raiders. In love with Miss Kerr, his protective instincts drive him to the point of attempted murder of his commander, William Redfield, as a sensitive young chaplain, fights his own battle with Holden, who considers the minister a softening, and therefore a dangerous, influence. All of these threads are caught together in a complex of human emotions that should make one of the most absorbing and gripping film stories of the year.

Filming of "The Proud and Profane" was done in the Virgin Islands and Puerto Rico. William Perlberg produced and George Seaton directed. The screenplay, also by George Seaton, promises to be a masterwork. His last one, "The Country Girl," won him an Oscar.

Show Business Glamour

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., August 12

The glamour of show business is a mighty dazzling, blinding element to the uninitiated. It exerts a similar influence for that matter on most seasoned performances.

The grand manner, the dramatic entrance, the proper wardrobe, the startling antics — all contribute to their glitter, and most of them go to painstaking lengths to keep the fable alive. The girls go to extremes in their apparel. The men play it to the hilt. It would not be surprising, therefore, if Sal Minico, young star of Universal-International's film "Crazy Love," were to flip for the glamour routine too.

What is surprising is the fact that he hasn't. His approach is refreshingly different. Sal will be eighteen in January, and although he's been on the New York stage since he was knee-high, he's only been a flash in Hollywood for the past couple of years. That would be long enough to cause an impressionable boy to go to the extremes which are so dear to the hearts of Hollywood's younger set. He hasn't done this, because, in his own words, "I don't understand that kind of stuff. I can't go highbrow or anything like that. It wouldn't make sense to my friends back in New York. They'd snub me. I wouldn't want to lose their friendship!"

The most important thing to this performer, who though still in his teens, offers a challenge to some of Hollywood's finest actors, and bodes well to grow into manhood, a star himself, is that the girls and boys he went to school with — don't highbrow him!

"They're very nice about it," he told me during a lunch break at the studio. "When I go home, they try not to ask me too many questions about Hollywood. We talk about movies just like other guys would."

"They don't as me a lot of silly things, because they know it would make me self-conscious. They know better than anyone else that our friendship isn't based on what I do or what they do. It's based on what we are, and what we mean to each other."

I submit that friendship based on such a philosophy, expressed by a boy in his teens, is the kind of human relationship most adults strive for, and hardly ever attain!

"How do you react to your friends back home, after making a picture in Hollywood?" I asked. "Do you find that you haven't got as much in common with them as you used to have?"

Sal's black penetrating eyes assumed a thoughtful expression and he answered quickly: "We've got as much in common — even more — than we had before, Mr. Fidler. After all, they're growing in their way, and I'm growing in mine. But we are all striving for the same thing — we want to do something worthwhile with ourselves. We talk about our future, a little — you know how guys shoot the breeze — but mostly we're just glad to be together!"

Minco has played in a lot of juvenile delinquent pictures, usually the bad boy who is misunderstood. These roles are great for an actor, but Sal is eager to demonstrate that they are not his entire stock in trade. His current role he says, is giving him a chance to show that he can "laugh and kid around, and have fun!"

His face is eloquent and sensitive, but always back of the seriousness is the boylish sense of humor, the lively interest in a gag or prank that gives lightness to the dramatic substance of his acting style.

He has taken the entire subject of juvenile delinquency in his stride and has some very interesting reactions to the general run of public opinion about the current crop of teenagers who are branded delinquents in so many movies and television shows.

"I live in the Bronx, and there are plenty of gang fights among the kids," he told me. "But believe me, the kids are a lot less delinquent than the adults. It's gotten so that no matter what happens they blame the kids for it, whether they are guilty or not. Kids are funny. Build up that kind of reputation for them, and even though they don't want to be tough guys, they put on an act just to show the grownups they can't be bullied around. I don't say all the kids are without blame, but a lot of them fall into habits they wouldn't think about."

Check Discloses
Soap Box Derby
Gains In Safety

KRONE, Ohio (UPI) — Safety checks were completed today on the 155 soap box racers ready for the gravity grind in the 19th annual all-American Soap Box Derby here Sunday.

Officials at Derby Downs said the home-made racers were "cleaner than in previous years" and that all of the cars were brought up to derby specification without too much difficulty.

A survey made in 1934 indicated that erosion had badly damaged more than 280 million acres of crop and grazing land.

A TENDER MOMENT — In one of the frankest love stories to come out of the war, Deborah Kerr and William Holden star in "The Proud and Profane," opening today at the Paramount Theatre. Holden is cast as a Marine Raiders Colonel, Miss Kerr as a Red Cross worker in the Paramount drama, a Perlberg-Seaton Production in Vista-Vision. Thelma Ritter and Dewey Martin co-star.

If they weren't bossed around so much by the grownup world!"

The struggle between adolescence and adulthood is almost over for Mino. Already he is thinking in adult terms. He is no longer the little angel with the dirty face; the boy is growing into manhood. He looks forward to studying dramatic art in an Eastern College. He wants to learn all there is to know about his craft, and one day hopes to direct a picture of his own choosing. These are pretty grand aims for a seven-year-old. There are pretty grownup ideas. But Mino's feet are already on the highway leading to grownup aspirations. He is beginning to understand — with a surprising grasp of the scope of things — that that highway is not to be without its stumbling blocks.
